

The Science Of Getting Rich

The Timeless 1910 Classic By Wallace D. Wattles

“The desire for riches is simply the capacity for larger life seeking fulfillment. Every desire is the effort of an unexpressed possibility to come into action. It is power seeking to manifest which causes desire. That which makes you want more money is the same as that which makes the plant grow. It is Life, seeking fuller expression.”

“The universe desires you to have everything you want to have. Nature is friendly to your plans. Everything is naturally for you. Make up your mind that this is true.”
~ Wallace D. Wattles

A Gift For You From WellBeingAlignment.com

The Science of Getting Rich

The Timeless 1910 Classic Formerly Titled:

Financial Success Through Creative Thought

By Wallace D. Wattles

Edited and Presented by Kai Hu, WellBeing Alignment

where you can:

download this book for free, get guidance for free, do-it-yourself energy clearing,

get free information about how to accept and love yourself, and get support and coaching to release old wounds and suffering that seem to hold you back from love, peace, joy and abundance!

The original manuscript of Mr. Wattles' book is in the public domain.

This copy is not in the public domain, but is a free gift from <http://www.wellbeingalignment.com/> and may be distributed freely as is.

Copyright © 2013 WellBeing Alignment, LLC

Table Of Contents

Introduction	iv
Author's Preface	x
Chapter 1. The Right To Be Rich	11
Chapter 2. There Is A Science Of Getting Rich	14
Chapter 3. Is Opportunity Monopolized?	17
Chapter 4. The First Principle In The Science Of Getting Rich	20
Chapter 5. Increasing Life	24
Chapter 6. How Riches Come To You	28
Chapter 7. Gratitude	32
Chapter 8. Thinking In The Certain Way.....	35
Chapter 9. How to Use The Will	39
Chapter 10. Further Use Of The Will	43
Chapter 11. Acting In The Certain Way	47
Chapter 12. Efficient Action	51
Chapter 13. Getting Into The Right Business.....	54
Chapter 14. The Impression If Increase	57
Chapter 15. The Advancing Person	60
Chapter 16. Some Cautions And Concluding Observations	63
Chapter 17. Summary Of The Science Of Getting Rich	67
Appendix A: How To Release Self-Limiting Beliefs	69
Appendix B: Testimonials – WellBeing Alignment	70
Appendix C: Links To Healing	71

Introduction

By Kai Hu

When I first heard of this book, I thought it was “just another get rich book.” But the fact that it was written in 1910 intrigued me so I began reading it. I was amazed at what I experienced. Wallace Wattles speaks from the deep understanding of how ALL things are created on this plane. He shows us that everything we experience comes from our own choices, beliefs, and thoughts. Everything.

This book is a powerful key to unlock false beliefs many of us have suffered from. With Wallace Wattles’ help you will clearly understand a very important fact:

*You are not now, nor have you ever been,
a victim of circumstances.
Once you accept this fact you are in a position to completely change your life.
I am living proof of that.*

In our True Essence, ALL of us are One Being, united as One with each other and with our Creator. However, in our thinking human mind (ego) we believe (usually unconsciously) that we are separate from each other and from God, and therefore separate from love, abundance, peace, and joy.

In the Truth of who we are, which is the same essence as what God Is, the term “abundance” doesn’t even apply. We are One with all that is. In fact, we ARE all that is, and there is never any need for anything because we are not separate from anything or anyone. Lack doesn’t exist. Our Creator never wants us to sacrifice or be without anything. It is only in our ego mind that we imagine we are separate from abundance, peace, and love, which causes us to think we must sacrifice and suffer.

If you follow the steps in this book, you can undo your allegiance to this belief in being separate from the abundance of the universe. This book is a stepping stone from a world of limits and separation into the world of abundance, where we become aware that our own thoughts determine the lives we create for ourselves. We have total freedom to change our choices, beliefs, and thoughts, and therefore our lives, at all times, no matter what our present circumstances are, as long as we stay in alignment with the highest and best good for All.

The “Original Thinking Substance” referred to in this book is consciousness, the dynamic creative force on this plane where it appears we are all separate bodies. Whatever thoughts we impress on this Formless Substance take form. ALL thoughts do this – both positive AND negative. When we become aware of this, we are on our way to the realization that we are always living within the Mind of God, which is our Ultimate Reality. We ARE the essence of God.

Wallace Wattles teaches us to look past appearances and live in the knowledge that Source has already given us everything we could ever want. We only need to awaken to the truth that we HAVE all and ARE all. If we’re not enjoying the fullness of life, it can only be because we have not yet realized this, or we’re blocking our experience of it with unconscious beliefs. More about this below.

My Personal Experience With This Book

As I began reading and studying this book every day and putting it into practice, I felt an inner channel unplugging itself. Within two weeks I got a high-paying part time job. The following week two large checks came to me in the mail. Within the next month, I doubled my income.

However, I quickly realized that I really didn’t want to DO the high-paying part time job and that I’d accepted it mostly for the money. I had sold out my heart’s desire for a pay check. I felt like I was in prison and I WAS in prison – a self-created one.

I learned a very powerful lesson from that: I do not have to do what I don’t enjoy doing, just to get a paycheck. It simply is not necessary. Part of my mind had been impressing these thoughts on Creative Formless Substance: “I want to devote my life to healing for All, and to live in peace, abundance, joy and love.” But another, mostly unconscious, part of myself that felt undeserving and “not good enough” had been projecting thoughts of doubt, scarcity, and lack to the Creative Formless Substance.

Even though consciously I had been focusing on love and abundance, my UNCONSCIOUS thoughts and beliefs of lack had been canceling out what I was thinking and doing consciously. Our unconscious thoughts are like the software running a computer, which in this metaphor is our lives. And, since Formless Substance is a neutral force, it is happy to create whatever we wish, whether it is positive or negative, conscious or unconscious.

What is IN this unconscious program that appears to run our lives? It is a collection of the beliefs we collected about ourselves in our early years, which, for most of us, includes a lot of false and painful beliefs.

How do we show Formless Substance what we want? Whatever we continually think and believe, especially those powerful thoughts that are unconsciously coming from the wounds of our inner child, is what our minds tell Formless Substance that we “want” to create. These wounded thoughts are loaded with emotions, which increases the creative force.

When I realized that self-sabotaging subliminal thoughts were coming from a child who still lived inside me who believed she was bad and needed to be punished, I made this child my highest priority. Whenever I felt fear and lack, I knew it was coming from her. I brought my attention to her and loved her unconditionally. I took over her parenting and gave her ongoing unconditional love, freedom and acceptance.

In my “imagination” I speeded up time and saw her growing up in this love, with it permeating every cell of her being and awareness. In my mind, whenever she wanted anything I gave it to her. I realized that until this little girl inside me felt loved and deserving of God’s love and abundance, my healing, joy and peace were put on hold. I also realized that she couldn’t feel love from God or anyone because she believed she was unlovable. I knew that once she felt MY love, then, and only then, would she KNOW absolutely that she IS love, just as she is.

I joined with my inner child several times a day. I re-parented her and she gradually let go of the self-punishment that made her falsely believe that she had to do jobs that felt like punishment in order to support herself. She (and I, as an adult) began to feel my worth as a child of God, who we all are.

Our minds can't tell the difference between what we experience in our imagination and what we remember we experienced in the past. Eventually the mind will choose to keep the experiences it likes best, and believe me, it always chooses the ones where we feel loved! When we bring the Light of Truth together with our wounds, the wounded areas of our psyche entrain to the Light of Truth and then release.

Within just a few days of doing this with my whole heart and determination, my outer life began to shift dramatically. A set of circumstances arose that allowed me to quit the job that was my self-created prison. I focused my attention on deepening my own self-healing. I committed full time to doing what makes my heart soar: sharing WellBeing Alignment Sessions. I also increased the time I spent writing for my website, sharing all that I learn, which I really love doing.

By choosing only what is in alignment with love, including loving myself enough to say “no” to anything that does not bring me joy, my life completely changed within just a week or so. One day I suddenly realized, “Wow, I actually am DOING what I’ve always wanted to do!”

Never again will I prostitute myself for a pay check. I wake up feeling free and excited about sharing healing sessions and writing, or whatever new adventure naturally flows. I am so grateful and delighted that I get to meet and join with so many beautiful sisters and brothers as we focus on healing together.

I really saw how important it is to be aware of the messages we give to the Thinking Substance Mr. Wattles talks about in this book. My inner dialogue changed from “Where will the money come from?” to “I HAVE money, and I’m taken care of.” Once I re-parented my inner little girl with unconditional, uninterrupted love, I simply stopped worrying about money. I focused on the joy and excitement I feel when I’m doing what I love and the new projects that show up.

Since that time, my joy, freedom, peace, gratitude, love and abundance continually expand. Opportunities arise that I could never have predicted or planned. I feel like I’ve stepped out of prison and into the bright, sparkling sunshine after years of feeling pushed down by my own beliefs.

I encourage you to follow any direction in life that makes your heart sing. The best way to serve all life is to do what you love! When you do that, your heart is open and you bring more Light into this world, which uplifts yourself and everyone on the planet.

Are You Sabotaging Your Abundance?

If you find something always goes “wrong” in your life when you try to manifest the things or experiences you want, or if you find yourself resisting the idea that you can be abundant doing what you love to do, there is a hurt inner child within you who came to believe s/he doesn’t deserve it. If you feel held back and don’t know why, chances are this little person is just below your conscious awareness.

From conception to the age of about seven years, we are self-focused. During that time we believed that everything that happens to us is ABOUT us. We felt responsible for all of what took place around us. We simply didn’t know any different.

For instance, if you did something that rocked your mother or father’s boat and they yelled at you and / or told you that you were “bad,” you took that in as a statement of absolute, literal, unquestionable truth about who you are. Each time an incident like that occurred, it reinforced that belief about yourself. Everything your primary caregivers said or did in regards to you, even subliminally, you took in as information about who you are.

Not only that, everything that happened between your parents or siblings (even if it didn’t directly involve you) got fed into your psyche as a statement about who you believe you are. The dynamics of the relationship between your parents formed your unconscious belief of what relationship IS.

During the first seven years you formed your entire belief system about yourself and what you deserve. Then this belief system receded into the subconscious “background” of your mind and literally became the software program that still runs your life from the background, unless you’ve been consciously healing it. Even if you remember an “ideal childhood,” ALL of us still picked up negative perceptions about ourselves that became part of this background program.

How can you know if these negative beliefs are there? If you’re having problems in your adult life, there are old, unconscious beliefs operating below your awareness. We think we live in the present, but the truth is that everything that we experience is a reflection, a literal projection, of what is going on within our own minds. Any “current” negative reflections (experiences) are from wounds in the past that have not been cleared and are still operating in the present. They are in your unconscious “program” that projects thoughts of pain and unworthiness onto the Creative Formless Substance. Then Formless Substance creates circumstances as evidence to confirm that this program is “true.”

And what is at the core of the unconscious software program for most of us? Guilt and shame. Guilt says “I did something bad.” Shame says “I AM bad.”

The Good News Is That We Can CHANGE This Software!

We can call on the Light within us and neutrally observe whatever we’re aware of in connection with our suffering, including physical sensations, emotions, thoughts, and memories. By observing the suffering from a higher, more peaceful perspective, the old beliefs, thoughts, emotions and physical suffering begin to unwind.

During the process you will begin to feel a connection with your child within. You can then bring Light and Unconditional Love to the precious little one inside, essentially reparenting him / her. This child is waiting for YOU and only you. And until this child receives YOUR love, s/he will find ways to block ALL love.

If you’d like help with your healing, I can coach you through this powerful process. To find out more about WellBeing Alignment Sessions, just click here:

<http://www.wellbeingalignment.com/energy-cleansing.html>

There are also links at the end of this book that can help you unwind limiting unconscious beliefs.

To your peace, freedom, joy, wellbeing, love, and the richness of all that makes your heart sing!

Kai

Regarding This Current Version Of Mr. Wattles' Book ...

I did minor editing on the original manuscript to make the text more readable in current times.

To grasp Wallace Wattles' message, it is helpful to know that at the time of the writing of the original book in 1910, there were two words frequently used then that had a slightly different emphasis than what they mean now:

“Certain,” as in “the certain way,” is used in this book to mean “having no doubt, convinced and sure.”

“Purpose” is used here to mean “determination.”

Author's Preface

This book is pragmatical, not philosophical, a practical manual, not a treatise upon theories. It is intended for the men and women whose most pressing need is for money, who wish to get rich first, and philosophize afterward. It is for those who have, so far, found neither the time, the means, nor the opportunity to go deeply into the study of metaphysics, but who want results and who are willing to take the conclusions of science as a basis for action, without going into all the processes by which those conclusions were reached.

It is expected that the reader will take the fundamental statements upon faith, just as he would take statements concerning a law of electrical action if they were promulgated by a Marconi or an Edison, and, taking the statements upon faith, that he will prove their truth by acting upon them without fear or hesitation. Every man or woman who does this will certainly get rich, for the science herein applied is an exact science, and failure is impossible. For the benefit, however, of those who wish to investigate philosophical theories and so secure a logical basis for faith, I will here cite certain authorities.

The monistic theory of the universe, the theory that One is All, and that All is One, that one Substance manifests itself as the seeming many elements of the material world, has been gradually winning its way into the thought of the western world for two hundred years. It is the foundation of all the Oriental philosophies, and of those of Descartes, Spinoza, Leibnitz, Schopenhauer, Hegel, and Emerson. The reader who would dig into the philosophical foundations of this is advised to read Hegel and Emerson for himself.

In writing this book I have sacrificed all other considerations to plainness and simplicity of style, so that all might understand. The plan of action laid down herein was deduced from the conclusions of philosophy. It has been thoroughly tested and bears the supreme test of practical experiment: It works. If you wish to know how the conclusions were arrived at, read the writings of the authors mentioned above, and if you wish to reap the fruits of their philosophies in actual practice, read this book and do exactly as it tells you to do.

~ The Author, Wallace D. Wattles

Chapter 1

The Right To Be Rich

Whatever may be said in praise of poverty, the fact remains that it is not possible to live a really complete or successful life unless one is rich. No one can rise to his greatest possible height in talent or soul development unless he has plenty of money, for to unfold the soul and to develop talent he must have many things to use, and he cannot have these things unless he has money to buy them with.

A person develops in mind, soul, and body by making use of things, and society is so organized that a person must have money in order to become the possessor of things. Therefore, the basis of all advancement must be the science of getting rich.

The object of all life is development, and everything that lives has an inalienable right to all the development it is capable of attaining.

A person's right to life means his right to have the free and unrestricted use of all the things which may be necessary to his fullest mental, spiritual, and physical unfoldment, or, in other words, his right to be rich.

In this book, I shall not speak of riches in a figurative way. To be really rich does not mean to be satisfied or contented with a little. No one ought to be satisfied with a little if he is capable of using and enjoying more. The purpose of Nature is the advancement and unfoldment of life and everyone should have all that can contribute to the power, elegance, beauty, and richness of life. To be content with less is sinful.

The person who owns all he wants for the living of all the life he is capable of living is rich, and no one who has not plenty of money can have all he wants. Life has advanced so far, and become so complex, that even the most ordinary man or woman requires a great amount of wealth in order to live in a manner that even approaches completeness. Every person naturally wants to become all that they are capable of becoming.

This desire to realize innate possibilities is inherent in human nature. We cannot help wanting to be all that we can be. Success in life is becoming what you want to be.

You can become what you want to be only by making use of things, and you can have the free use of things only as you become rich enough to buy them. To understand the science of getting rich is therefore the most essential of all knowledge.

*There is nothing wrong in wanting to get rich.
The desire for riches is really the desire for a richer, fuller, and more abundant life and that desire is praiseworthy.*

The person who does not desire to live more abundantly is abnormal, and so the person who does not desire to have money enough to buy all he wants is abnormal.

There are three motives for which we live: We live for the body, we live for the mind, we live for the soul. No one of these is better or holier than the other. All are alike desirable, and no one of the three – body, mind, or soul – can live fully if either of the others is cut short of full life and expression. It is not right or noble to live only for the soul and deny mind or body, and it is wrong to live for the intellect and deny body or soul.

We are all acquainted with the loathsome consequences of living for the body and denying both mind and soul, and we see that real life means the complete expression of all that a person can give forth through body, mind, and soul. Whatever he can say, no one can be really happy or satisfied unless his body is living fully in every function, and unless the same is true of his mind and his soul. Wherever there is unexpressed possibility, or function not performed, there is unsatisfied desire. Desire is possibility seeking expression, or function seeking performance.

A person cannot live fully in body without good food, comfortable clothing, and warm shelter, and without freedom from excessive toil. Rest and recreation are also necessary to his physical life.

One cannot live fully in mind without books and time to study them, without opportunity for travel and observation, or without intellectual companionship.

To live fully in mind a person must have intellectual recreations, and must surround himself with all the objects of art and beauty he is capable of using and appreciating.

To live fully in soul, a person must have love, and love gains fuller expression with wealth. A person's highest happiness is found in the bestowal of benefits on those he loves. Love finds its most natural and spontaneous expression in giving. The person who has nothing to give cannot fill his place as a spouse or parent, as a citizen, or as a human being.

It is in the use of material things that a person finds full life for his body, develops his mind, and unfolds his soul. It is therefore of supreme importance to him that he should be rich.

It is perfectly right that you should desire to be rich. If you are a normal man or woman you cannot help doing so. It is perfectly right that you should give your best attention to the science of getting rich, for it is the noblest and most necessary of all studies. If you neglect this study, you are derelict in your duty to yourself, to God and humanity, for you can render to God and humanity no greater service than to make the most of yourself.

Chapter 2

There Is A Science Of Getting Rich

There is a science of getting rich, and it is an exact science, like algebra or arithmetic. There are certain laws which govern the process of acquiring riches. Once these laws are learned and obeyed by anyone, they will get rich with mathematical certainty.

The ownership of money and property comes as a result of doing things in a certain [sure] way. Those who do things in this certain way, whether on purpose or accidentally, get rich, while those who do not do things in this certain way, no matter how hard they work or how able they are, remain poor.

It is a natural law that like causes always produce like effects, and, therefore, any man or woman who learns to do things in this certain [sure] way will infallibly get rich.

That the above statement is true is shown by the following facts:

Getting rich is not a matter of environment, for if it were, all the people in certain neighborhoods would become wealthy. The people of one city would all be rich, while those of other towns would all be poor, or the inhabitants of one state would roll in wealth, while those of an adjoining state would be in poverty.

But everywhere we see rich and poor living side by side, in the same environment, and often engaged in the same vocations. When two people are in the same locality, and in the same business, and one gets rich while the other remains poor, it shows that getting rich is not, primarily, a matter of environment. Some environments may be more favorable than others, but when two people in the same business are in the same neighborhood, and one gets rich while the other fails, it indicates that getting rich is the result of doing things in a certain [sure] way.

And further, the ability to do things in this certain [sure] way is not due solely to the possession of talent, for many people who have great talent remain poor, while other who have very little talent get rich.

Studying the people who have gotten rich, we find that they are an average lot in all respects, having no greater talents and abilities than other people. It is evident that they do not get rich because they possess talents and abilities that others have not, but because they happen to do things in a certain [sure] way.

Getting rich is not the result of saving, or “thrift.” Many very penurious people are poor, while free spenders often get rich.

Nor is getting rich due to doing things which others fail to do; for two people in the same business often do almost exactly the same things, and one gets rich while the other remains poor or becomes bankrupt.

From all these things, we must come to the conclusion that getting rich is the result of doing things in a certain [sure] way.

If getting rich is the result of doing things in a certain [sure] way, and if like causes always produce like effects, then any man or woman who can do things in that way can become rich, and the whole matter is brought within the domain of exact science.

The question arises here, whether this certain [sure] way may not be so difficult that only a few may follow it. This cannot be true, as we have seen, so far as natural ability is concerned. Talented people get rich and blockheads get rich. Intellectually brilliant people get rich, and very stupid people get rich. Physically strong people get rich, and weak and sickly people get rich.

Some degree of ability to think and understand is, of course, essential, but insofar as natural ability is concerned, any man or woman who has sense enough to read and understand these words can certainly get rich.

Also, we have seen that it is not a matter of environment. Location counts for something – one would not go to the heart of the Sahara and expect to do successful business. Getting rich involves the necessity of dealing with people, and of being where there are people to deal with, and if these people are inclined to deal in the way you want to deal, so much the better. But that is about as far as environment goes. If anybody else in your town can get rich, so can you, and if anybody else in your state can get rich, so can you.

Again, it is not a matter of choosing some particular business or profession. People get rich in every business, and in every profession, while their next door neighbors in the same vocation remain in poverty.

It is true that you will do best in a business which you like, and which is congenial to you, and if you have certain talents which are well developed, you will do best in a business which calls for the exercise of those talents.

Also, you will do best in a business which is suited to your locality. An ice cream parlor would do better in a warm climate than in Greenland, and a salmon fishery will succeed better in the Northwest than in Florida, where there are no salmon.

But, aside from these general limitations, getting rich is not dependent upon your engaging in some particular business, but upon your learning to do things in a certain [sure] way. If you are now in business, and anybody else in your locality is getting rich in the same business while you are not getting rich, it is because you are not doing things in the same way that the other person is doing them.

No one is prevented from getting rich by lack of capital. True, as you get capital the increase becomes more easy and rapid, but one who has capital is already rich, and does not need to consider how to become so. No matter how poor you may be, if you begin to do things in the certain [sure] way you will begin to get rich and you will begin to have capital. The getting of capital is a part of the process of getting rich and it is a part of the result which invariably follows the doing of things in the certain [sure] way.

You may be the poorest person on the continent, and be deeply in debt; you may have neither friends, influence, nor resources; but if you begin to do things in this way, you must infallibly begin to get rich, for like causes must produce like effects. If you have no capital, you can get capital. If you are in the wrong business, you can get into the right business. If you are in the wrong location, you can go to the right location. You can do so by beginning in your present business and in your present location to do things in the certain [sure] way which causes success.

Chapter 3

Is Opportunity Monopolized?

No one is kept poor because other people have monopolized the wealth and have put a fence around it. You may be shut off from engaging in business in certain lines, but there are other channels open to you.

At different periods the tide of opportunity sets in different directions, according to the needs of the Whole and the particular stage of social evolution which has been reached. There is an abundance of opportunity for the person who will go with the tide, instead of trying to swim against it.

So workers, either as individuals or as a class, are not deprived of opportunity. The workers are not being “kept down” by their masters. They are not being “ground” by the trusts and big business. As a class, they are where they are because they do not do things in a certain [sure] way.

The working class may become the master class whenever they will begin to do things in a certain [sure] way. The Law of Wealth is the same for them as it is for all others. This they must learn, and they will remain where they are as long as they continue to do as they do.

*The individual worker, however, is not held down by an entire class's ignorance of these laws.
He can follow the tide of opportunity to riches, and this book will tell him how.*

No one is kept in poverty by a shortness in the supply of riches. There is more than enough for all. A palace as large as the capitol at Washington might be built for every family on earth from the building material in the United States alone, and under intensive cultivation this country would produce wool, cotton, linen, and silk enough to clothe each person in the world finer than Solomon was arrayed in all his glory, together with food enough to feed them all luxuriously.

The visible supply is practically inexhaustible, and the invisible supply really is inexhaustible.

Everything you see on earth is made from one Original Substance, out of which all things proceed. New forms are constantly being made, and older ones are dissolving, but all are shapes assumed by one thing.

There is no limit to the supply of Formless Stuff, or Original Substance. The universe is made out of it, but it was not all used in making the universe. The spaces in, through, and between the forms of the visible universe are permeated and filled with the Original Substance, with the Formless Stuff – with the raw material of all things. Ten thousand times as much as has been made might still be made, and even then we should not have exhausted the supply of Universal Raw Material.

No one, therefore, is poor because nature is poor or because there is not enough to go around.

Nature is an inexhaustible storehouse of riches; the supply will never run short. Original Substance is alive with creative energy, and is constantly producing more forms. When the supply of building material is exhausted, more will be produced. When the soil is exhausted so that food stuffs and materials for clothing will no longer grow upon it, it will be renewed or more soil will be made. When all the gold and silver has been dug from the earth, if humanity is still in such a stage of social development that it needs gold and silver, more will be produced from the Formless. The Formless Stuff responds to the needs of humankind. It will not let the world be without any good thing.

This is true of humankind collectively. The race as a whole is always abundantly rich, and if individuals are poor it is because they do not follow the certain [sure] way of doing things which makes the individual rich.

The Formless Stuff is intelligent; it is Stuff which thinks. It is alive and is always impelled toward more life.

It is the natural and inherent impulse of life to seek to live more. It is the nature of intelligence to enlarge itself, and of consciousness to seek to extend its boundaries and find fuller expression. The universe of forms has been made by Formless Living Substance throwing itself into form in order to express itself more fully.

The universe is a Great Living Presence, always moving inherently towards more life and fuller functioning. Nature is formed for the advancement of life, and its impelling motive is the increase of life. Because of this, everything which can possibly minister to life is bountifully provided. There can be no lack unless God is to contradict himself and nullify his own works.

You are not kept poor by lack in the supply of riches. It is a fact which I shall demonstrate a little farther on that even the resources of the Formless Supply are at the command of the man or woman who will act and think in a certain [sure] way.

Chapter 4

The First Principle In The Science Of Getting Rich

Thought is the only power which can produce tangible riches from the Formless Substance. The Stuff from which all things are made is a Substance which thinks, and a thought of form in this Substance produces the form.

Original Substance moves according to its thoughts. Every form and process you see in nature is the visible expression of a thought in Original Substance. As the Formless Stuff thinks of a form, it takes that form; as it thinks of a motion, it makes that motion. That is the way all things were created.

We live in a thought world, which is part of a thought universe. The thought of a moving universe extended throughout Formless Substance, and the Thinking Stuff moving according to that thought, took the form of systems of planets, and maintains that form. Thinking Substance takes the form of its thought, and moves according to the thought. Holding the idea of a circling system of suns and worlds, it takes the form of these bodies, and moves them as it thinks. Thinking the form of a slow-growing oak tree, it moves accordingly, and produces the tree, though centuries may be required to do the work. In creating, the Formless seems to move according to the lines of motion it has established. The thought of an oak tree does not cause the instant formation of a full grown tree, but it does start in motion the forces which will produce the tree, along established lines of growth.

Every thought of form, held in Thinking Substance, causes the creation of the form, but always, or at least generally, along lines of growth and action already established.

The thought of a house of a certain construction, if it were impressed upon Formless Substance, might not cause the instant formation of the house, but it would cause the turning of creative energies already working in trade and commerce into such channels as to result in the speedy building of the house. And if there were no existing channels through which the creative energy could work, then the house would be formed directly from Primal Substance, without waiting for the slow processes of the organic and inorganic world.

No thought of form can be impressed upon Original Substance without causing the creation of the form.

A person is a thinking center, and can originate thought. All the forms that a person fashions with his hands must first exist in his thought. He cannot shape a thing until he has thought that thing.

So far humankind has confined its efforts wholly to the work of its hands. It has applied manual labor to the world of forms, seeking to change or modify those already existing. Humankind has never thought of trying to cause the creation of new forms by impressing its thoughts upon Formless Substance.

When a person has a thought form, he takes material from the forms of nature, and makes an image of the form which is in his mind. He has, so far, made little or no effort to cooperate with Formless Intelligence – to work “with the Father.” The person has not dreamed that he can “do what he seeth the Father doing.” He reshapes and modifies existing forms by manual labor. He has given no attention to the question whether he may not produce things from Formless Substance by communicating his thoughts to it. We propose to prove that he may do so, to prove that any man or woman may do so, and to show how. As our first step, we must lay down three fundamental propositions.

First, we assert that there is one Original Formless Stuff, or Substance, from which all things are made. All the seemingly many elements are but different presentations of one element.

All the many forms found in organic and inorganic nature are but different shapes, made from the same Stuff. And this Stuff is Thinking Stuff. A thought held in it produces the form of the thought. Thought, in Thinking Substance, produces shapes. A person is a thinking center, capable of original thought. If a person can communicate his thought to Original Thinking Substance, he can cause the creation, or formation, of the thing he thinks about.

To summarize this:

There is a Thinking Stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe.

A thought in this Substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought.

A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon Formless Substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

It may be asked if I can prove these statements, and without going into details, I answer that I can do so, both by logic and experience.

Reasoning back from the phenomena of form and thought, I come to one Original Thinking Substance, and reasoning forward from this Thinking Substance, I come to a person's power to cause the formation of the thing he thinks about. And by experiment, I find the reasoning true, and this is my strongest proof.

If one person who reads this book gets rich by doing what it tells him to do, that is evidence in support of my claim, but if every person who does what it tells him to do gets rich, that is positive proof until someone goes through the process and fails. The theory is true until the process fails, and this process will not fail, for every person who does exactly what this book tells him to do will get rich.

I have said that people get rich by doing things in a certain [sure] way, and in order to do so, they must become able to think in a certain [sure] way.

A person's way of doing things is the direct result of the way he thinks about things. To do things in a way you want to do them, you will have to acquire the ability to think the way you want to think.

This is the first step toward getting rich.

To think what you want to think is to think TRUTH, regardless of appearances.

Every person has the natural and inherent power to think what he wants to think, but it requires far more effort to do so than it does to think the thoughts which are suggested by appearances. To think according to appearance is easy. To think truth regardless of appearances is laborious, and requires the expenditure of more power than any other work a person is called upon to perform.

There is no labor from which most people shrink as they do from that of sustained and consecutive thought – it is the hardest work in the world. This is especially true when truth is contrary to appearances. Every appearance in the visible world tends to produce a corresponding form in the mind which observes it, and this can only be prevented by holding the thought of the TRUTH.

To look upon the appearance of disease will produce the form of disease in your own mind, and ultimately in your body, unless you hold the thought of the truth, which is that there is no disease. It is only an appearance, and the reality is health.

To look upon the appearances of poverty will produce corresponding forms in your own mind, unless you hold to the truth that there is no poverty; there is only abundance.

To think health when surrounded by the appearances of disease, or to think riches when in the midst of appearances of poverty, requires power; but whoever acquires this power becomes a master mind. He can conquer fate. He can have what he wants.

This power can only be acquired by getting hold of the basic fact which is behind all appearances, and that fact is that there is one Thinking Substance, from which and by which all things are made. Then we must grasp the truth that every thought held in this Substance becomes a form, and that we can so impress our thoughts upon it as to cause them to take form and become visible things.

When we realize this, we lose all doubt and fear, for we know that we can create what we want to create. We can get what we want to have, and can become what we want to be. As a first step toward getting rich, you must believe the three fundamental statements given previously in this chapter. In order to emphasize them, I repeat them here:

There is a Thinking Stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe.

A thought in this Substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought.

A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon Formless Substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

You must lay aside all other concepts of the universe, and you must dwell upon this until it is fixed in your mind and has become your habitual thought. Read these statements over and over again. Fix every word upon your memory, and meditate upon them until you firmly believe what they say. If a doubt comes to you, cast it aside. Do not listen to arguments against this idea. Do not go to churches or lectures where a contrary concept of things is taught or preached. Do not read magazines or books which teach a different idea. If you get mixed up in your faith, all your efforts will be in vain.

Do not ask why these things are true, nor speculate as to how they can be true; simply take them on trust.

The science of getting rich begins with the absolute acceptance of this.

Chapter 5

Increasing Life

You must get rid of the last vestige of the old idea that there is a deity whose will it is that you should be poor, or whose purposes may be served by keeping you in poverty.

The Intelligent Substance which is All, and in All, and which lives in All and lives in you, is a consciously living Substance. Being a consciously living Substance, it must have the nature and inherent desire of every living intelligence for increase of life. Every living thing must continually seek for the enlargement of its life, because life, in the mere act of living, must increase itself.

A seed, dropped into the ground, springs into activity, and in the act of living produces a hundred more seeds. Life, by living, multiplies itself. It is forever becoming more. It must do so, if it continues to be at all.

Intelligence is under this same necessity for continuous increase. Every thought we think makes it necessary for us to think another thought. Consciousness is continually expanding. Every fact we learn leads us to the learning of another fact. Knowledge is continually increasing. Every talent we cultivate brings to the mind the desire to cultivate another talent.

*We are subject to the urge of life, seeking expression, which ever drives us on to know more,
to do more, and to be more.*

In order to know more, do more, and be more we must have more. We must have things to use, for we learn, and do, and become, only by using things. We must get rich, so that we can live more.

The desire for riches is simply the capacity for larger life seeking fulfillment. Every desire is the effort of an unexpressed possibility to come into action. It is power seeking to manifest which causes desire. That which makes you want more money is the same as that which makes the plant grow. It is life seeking fuller expression.

The one living Substance must be subject to this inherent law of all life. It is permeated with the desire to live more. That is why it is under the necessity of creating things. The one Substance desires to live more in you. Hence it wants you to have all the things you can use.

It is the desire of God that you should get rich. He wants you to get rich because he can express himself better through you if you have plenty of things to use in giving him expression. He can live more in you if you have unlimited command of the means of life.

*The universe desires you to have everything you want to have. Nature is friendly to your plans.
Everything is naturally FOR you.
Make up your mind that this is true.
It is essential, however that your purpose should harmonize with the purpose that is in All.*

You must want real life, not mere pleasure of sensual gratification. Life is the performance of function, and the individual really lives only when he performs every function – physical, mental, and spiritual – of which he is capable, without excess in any.

You do not want to get rich in order to live swinishly, for the gratification of animal desires. That is not life. But the performance of every physical function is a part of life, and no one lives completely who denies the impulses of the body a normal and healthful expression.

You do not want to get rich solely to enjoy mental pleasures, to get knowledge, to gratify ambition, to outshine others or to be famous. All these are a legitimate part of life, but the person who lives for the pleasures of the intellect alone will only have a partial life, and he will never be satisfied with his lot.

You do not want to get rich solely for the good of others, to lose yourself for the salvation of humankind, to experience the joys of philanthropy and sacrifice. The joys of the soul are only a part of life and they are no better or nobler than any other part.

You want to get rich in order that you may eat, drink, and be merry when it is time to do these things; in order that you may surround yourself with beautiful things, see distant lands, feed your mind, and develop your intellect; in order that you may love others and do kind things, and be able to play a good part in helping the world to find truth.

But remember that extreme altruism is no better and no nobler than extreme selfishness. Both are mistakes. Get rid of the idea that God wants you to sacrifice yourself for others, and that you can secure his favor by doing so. God requires nothing of the kind.

What he wants is that you should make the most of yourself, for yourself, and for others, and you can help others more by making the most of yourself than in any other way.

You can make the most of yourself only by getting rich, so it is right and praiseworthy that you should give your first and best thought to the work of acquiring wealth.

Remember, however, that the desire of Substance is for All, and its movements must be for more life to All. It cannot be made to work for less life to any, because it is equally in All, seeking riches and life.

Intelligent Substance will make things for you, but it will not take things away from someone else and give them to you. You must get rid of the thought of competition. You are to create, not to compete for what is already created. You do not have to take anything away from anyone.

You do not have to drive sharp bargains. You do not have to cheat, or to take advantage. You do not need to let anyone work for you for less than he earns.

You do not have to covet the property of others, or to look at it with wishful eyes. No one has anything of which you cannot have the like, and that without taking what he has away from him.

You are to become a creator, not a competitor. You are going to get what you want, but in such a way that when you get it every other person will have more than he has now.

I am aware that there are those who get a vast amount of money by proceeding in direct opposition to the statements in the paragraph above, so I'll add a word of explanation here. Those of the plutocratic type, who become very rich, do so sometimes purely by their extraordinary ability on the plane of competition. And sometimes they unconsciously relate themselves to Substance in its great purposes and movements for the general upbuilding through industrial evolution. Rockefeller, Carnegie, Morgan, et al., have been the unconscious agents of the Supreme in the necessary work of systematizing and organizing productive industry. In the end, their work will contribute immensely toward increased life for All. However, their day is nearly over. They have organized production, and will soon be succeeded by the agents of the multitude, who will organize the machinery of distribution.

They are like the monster reptiles of the prehistoric eras. They play a necessary part in the evolutionary process, but the same power which produced them will dispose of them. And it is well to bear in mind that they have never been really rich. A record of the private lives of most of this class will show that they have really been the most abject and wretched of the poor.

Riches secured on the competitive plane are never satisfactory and permanent. They are yours today, and another's tomorrow. Remember, if you are to become rich in a scientific and certain [sure] way, you must rise entirely out of the competitive thought. You must never think for a moment that the supply is limited. Just as soon as you begin to think that all the money is being "cornered" and controlled by bankers and others, and that you must exert yourself to get laws passed to stop this process, and so on – in that moment you drop into the competitive mind, and your power to cause creation is gone for the time being. And what is worse, you will probably arrest the creative movements you have already instituted.

KNOW that there are countless millions of dollars' worth of gold in the mountains of the earth, not yet brought to light. And know that if there were not, more would be created from Thinking Substance to supply your needs.

KNOW that the money you need will come, even if it is necessary for a thousand people to be led to the discovery of new gold mines tomorrow.

Never look at the visible supply. Look always at the limitless riches in Formless Substance, and KNOW that they are coming to you as fast as you can receive and use them. Nobody, by cornering the visible supply, can prevent you from getting what is yours.

So never allow yourself to think for an instant that all the best building spots will be taken before you get ready to build your house, unless you hurry. Never worry about the trusts and combines, and get anxious for fear they will soon come to own the whole earth.

*Never get afraid that you will lose what you want because some other person "beats you to it."
That cannot possibly happen. You are not seeking anything that is possessed by anybody else.
You are causing what you want to be created from Formless Substance, and the supply is without limits.*

Stick to the formulated statement:

There is a Thinking Stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe.

A thought in this Substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought.

A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon Formless Substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

Chapter 6

How Riches Come To You

When I say that you do not have to drive sharp bargains, I do not mean that you do not have to drive any bargains at all, or that you are above the necessity for having any dealings with your fellow men and women. I mean that you will not need to deal with them unfairly. You do not have to get something for nothing, but can give to every person more than you take from him.

You cannot give every person more in cash market value than you take from him, but you can give him more in use value than the cash value of the thing you take from him. The paper, ink, and other material in this book may not be worth the money you pay for it, but if the ideas suggested by it bring you thousands of dollars, you have not been wronged by those who sold it to you. They have given you a great use value for a small cash value.

Let us suppose that I own a picture by one of the great artists, which, in any civilized community, is worth thousands of dollars. I take it to Baffin Ray, and by “salesmanship” induce an Eskimo to give a bundle of furs worth $500 for it. I have really wronged him, for he has no use for the picture; it has no use value to him. It will not add to his life.

But suppose I give him a gun worth $50 for his furs. Then he has made a good bargain. He has use for the gun. It will get him many more furs and much food. It will add to his life in every way. It will make him rich.

When you rise from the competitive to the creative plane, you can scan your business transactions very strictly, and if you are selling anyone anything which does not add more to his life than the thing he gives you in exchange, you can afford to stop it. You do not have to beat anybody in business. And if you are in a business which does beat people, get out of it at once.

*Give everyone more in use value than you take from him in cash value.
Then you are adding to the life of the world by every business transaction.*

If you have people working for you, you must take from them more in cash value than you pay them in wages, but you can so organize your business that it will be filled with the principle of advancement, so that each employee who wishes to do so may advance a little every day.

You can make your business do for your employees what this book is doing for you. You can so conduct your business that it will be a sort of ladder, by which every employee who will take the trouble may climb to riches himself. And given the opportunity, if he will not do so it is not your fault.

And finally, because you are to cause the creation of your riches from Formless Substance which permeates all your environment, it does not follow that they are to take shape from the atmosphere and come into being before your eyes.

If you want a sewing machine, for instance, I do not mean to tell you that you are to impress the thought of a sewing machine on Thinking Substance until the machine is formed without hands, in the room where you sit, or elsewhere. But if you want a sewing machine, hold the mental image of it with the most positive certainty that it is being made, or is on its way to you. After once forming the thought, have the most absolute and unquestioning faith that the sewing machine is coming. Never think of it, or speak, of it, in any other way than as being sure to arrive. Claim it as already yours.

It will be brought to you by the power of the Supreme Intelligence, acting upon the minds of people. If you live in Maine, it may be that someone will be brought from Texas or Japan to engage in some transaction which will result in your getting what you want. If so, the whole matter will be as much to that person's advantage as it is to yours.

*Do not forget for a moment that the Thinking Substance is through All, in All, communicating with All,
and can influence All.*

The desire of Thinking Substance for fuller life and better living has caused the creation of all the sewing machines already made, and it can cause the creation of millions more, and will, whenever people set it in motion by desire and faith, and by acting in a certain [sure] way.

You can certainly have a sewing machine in your house, and it is just as certain that you can have any other thing or things which you want, and which you will use for the advancement of your own life and the lives of others.

You need not hesitate about asking largely. "It is your Father's pleasure to give you the kingdom," said Jesus.

Original Substance wants to live all that is possible in you, and wants you to have all that you can or will use for the living of the most abundant life.

If you fix upon your consciousness the fact that the desire you feel for the possession of riches is one with the desire of the Supreme Power for more complete expression, your faith becomes invincible.

Once I saw a little boy sitting at a piano, and vainly trying to bring harmony out of the keys. I saw that he was grieved and provoked by his inability to play real music. I asked him the cause of his vexation, and he answered, "I can feel the music in me, but I can't make my hands go right." The music in him was the URGE of Original Substance, containing all the possibilities of all life. All that there is of music was seeking expression through the child.

God, the One Substance, is trying to live and do and enjoy things through humanity. He is saying "I want hands to build wonderful structures, to play divine harmonies, to paint glorious pictures. I want feet to run my errands, eyes to see my beauties, tongues to tell mighty truths and to sing marvelous songs," and so on.

All that there is of possibility is seeking expression through people. God wants those who can play music to have pianos and every other instrument, and to have the means to cultivate their talents to the fullest extent. He wants those who can appreciate beauty to be able to surround themselves with beautiful things. He wants those who can discern truth to have every opportunity to travel and observe. He wants those who can appreciate dress to be beautifully clothed, and those who can appreciate good food to be luxuriously fed.

He wants all these things because it is himself that enjoys and appreciates them. It is God who wants to play, and sing, and enjoy beauty, and proclaim truth and wear fine clothes, and eat good foods. "It is God that worketh in you to will and to do," said Paul, the apostle.

The desire you feel for riches is the infinite, seeking to express himself in you as he sought to find expression in the little boy at the piano.

So you need not hesitate to ask largely. Your part is to focalize and express the desire to God.

This is a difficult point with most people. They retain something of the old idea that poverty and self-sacrifice are pleasing to God. They look upon poverty as a part of the plan, a necessity of nature. They have the idea that God has finished his work, and made all that he can make, and that the majority of people must stay poor because there is not enough to go around. They hold to so much of this erroneous thought that they feel ashamed to ask for wealth. They try not to want more than a very modest competence, just enough to make them fairly comfortable.

I recall now the case of one student who was told that he must get in mind a clear picture of the things he desired, so that the creative thought of them might be impressed on Formless Substance. He was a very poor man, living in a rented house, and having only what he earned from day to day. He could not grasp the fact that all wealth was his.

So, after thinking the matter over, he decided that he might reasonably ask for a new rug for the floor of his best room, and an anthracite coal stove to heat the house during the cold weather. Following the instructions given in this book, he obtained these things in a few months. Then it dawned upon him that he had not asked enough. He went through the house in which he lived, and planned all the improvements he would like to make in it. He mentally added a bay window here and a room there, until it was complete in his mind as his ideal home; and then he planned its furnishings.

Holding the whole picture in his mind, he began living in the certain [sure] way, and moving toward what he wanted. He owns the house now, and is rebuilding it after the form of his mental image. And now, with still larger faith, he is going on to get greater things. It has been unto him according to his faith, and it is so with you and with all of us.

Chapter 7

Gratitude

The illustrations given in the last chapter will have conveyed to the reader the fact that the first step toward getting rich is to convey the idea of your wants to the Formless Substance. This is true, and you will see that in order to do so it becomes necessary to relate yourself to the Formless Intelligence in a harmonious way.

To secure this harmonious relation is a matter of such primary and vital importance that I shall give some space to its discussion here, and give you instructions which, if you will follow them, will be certain to bring you into perfect unity of mind with God.

The whole process of mental adjustment and atonement can be summed up in one word: Gratitude.

First, you believe that there is one Intelligent Substance from which all things proceed. Second, you believe that this Substance gives you everything you desire. Third, you relate yourself to it by a feeling of deep and profound gratitude.

Many people who order their lives rightly in all other ways are kept in poverty by their lack of gratitude. Having received one gift from God, they cut the wires which connect them with him by failing to make acknowledgment.

It is easy to understand that the nearer we live to the source of wealth, the more wealth we shall receive, and it is easy also to understand that the soul that is always grateful lives in closer touch with God than the one which never looks to him in thankful acknowledgment.

The more gratefully we fix our minds on the Supreme when good things come to us, the more good things we will receive, and the more rapidly they will come. The reason simply is that the mental attitude of gratitude draws the mind into closer touch with the Source from which the blessings come.

If it is a new thought to you that gratitude brings your whole mind into closer harmony with the creative energies of the universe, consider it well, and you will see that it is true. The good things you already have came to you along the line of obedience to certain laws. Gratitude will lead your mind out along the ways by which things come, and it will keep you in close harmony with creative thought and prevent you from falling into competitive thought.

*Gratitude alone can keep you looking toward the All and prevent you from falling into the error of thinking of the supply as limited.
To do that would be fatal to your hopes.*

There is a Law of Gratitude, and it is absolutely necessary that you should observe the law, if you are to get the results you seek. The Law of Gratitude is the natural principle that action and reaction are always equal, and in opposite directions.

The grateful outreaching of your mind in thankful praise to the Supreme is a liberation or expenditure of force. It cannot fail to reach that to which it addressed, and the reaction is an instantaneous movement towards you.

“Draw nigh unto God, and He will draw nigh unto you.” That is a statement of psychological truth.

If your gratitude is strong and constant, the reaction in Formless Substance will be strong and continuous. The movement of the things you want will be always toward you. Notice the grateful attitude that Jesus took, how he always seems to be saying, “I thank Thee, Father, that Thou hearest me.” You cannot exercise much power without gratitude, for it is gratitude that keeps you connected with power.

But the value of gratitude does not consist solely in getting you more blessings in the future. Without gratitude you cannot long keep from dissatisfied thought regarding things as they are.

The moment you permit your mind to dwell with dissatisfaction upon things as they are, you begin to lose ground. You fix attention upon the common, the ordinary, the poor, and the squalid and mean, and your mind takes the form of these things. Then you will transmit these forms or mental images to the Formless, and the common, the poor, the squalid, and mean will come to you.

To permit your mind to dwell upon the inferior is to become inferior and to surround yourself with inferior things. On the other hand, to fix your attention on the best is to surround yourself with the best, and to become the best.

The creative power within us makes us into the image of that to which we give our attention.

*We are Thinking Substance, and Thinking Substance always takes the form of that which it thinks about.
The grateful mind is constantly fixed upon the best.
Therefore it tends to become the best.
It takes the form or character of the best,
and will receive the best.*

Also, faith is born of gratitude. The grateful mind continually expects good things, and expectation becomes faith. The reaction of gratitude upon one's own mind produces faith, and every outgoing wave of grateful thanksgiving increases faith. A person who has no feeling of gratitude cannot long retain a living faith. And without a living faith you cannot get rich by the creative method, as we shall see in the following chapters.

It is necessary, then, to cultivate the habit of being grateful for every good thing that comes to you and to give thanks continuously. And because all things have contributed to your advancement, you should include all things in your gratitude.

Do not waste time thinking or talking about the shortcomings or wrong actions of plutocrats or trust magnates. Their organization of the world has created your opportunity. All you get really comes to you because of them. Do not rage against corrupt politicians. If it were not for politicians we should fall into anarchy, and your opportunity would be greatly lessened.

God has worked a long time and very patiently to bring us up to where we are in industry and government, and he is going right on with his work. There is not the least doubt that he will do away with plutocrats, trust magnates, captains of industry, and politicians as soon as they can be spared. But in the meantime, they are all very necessary. Remember that they are all helping to arrange the lines of transmission along which your riches will come to you, and be grateful to them all. This will bring you into harmonious relations with the good in everything, and the good in everything will move toward you.

Chapter 8

Thinking In The Certain Way

Turn back to Chapter 6 and read again the story of the man who formed a mental image of his house, and you will get a fair idea of the initial step toward getting rich. You must form a clear and definite mental picture of what you want. You cannot transmit an idea unless you have it yourself.

You must have it before you can give it, and many people fail to impress Thinking Substance because they have themselves only a vague and misty concept of the things they want to do, to have, or to become.

It is not enough that you should have a general desire for wealth “to do good with.” Everybody has that desire.

It is not enough that you should have a wish to travel, see things, live more, etc. Everybody has those desires also. If you were going to send a wireless message to a friend, you would not send the letters of the alphabet in their order, and let him construct the message for himself. Nor would you take words at random from the dictionary. You would send a coherent sentence, one which meant something.

When you try to impress your wants upon Substance, remember that it must be done by a coherent statement. You must know what you want, and be definite. You can never get rich, or start the creative power into action, by sending out unformed longings and vague desires.

Go over your desires just as the man I have described went over his house. See just what you want, and get a clear mental picture of it as you wish it to look when you get it.

That clear mental picture you must have continually in mind, as the sailor has in mind the port toward which he is sailing the ship. You must keep your face toward it all the time. You must no more lose sight of it than the steersman loses sight of the compass.

It is not necessary to take exercises in concentration, nor to set apart special times for prayer and affirmation, nor to “go into the silence,” nor to do occult stunts of any kind. These things are well enough, but all you need is to know what you want, and to want it badly enough so that it will stay in your thoughts.

Spend as much of your leisure time as you can in contemplating your picture, but no one needs to take exercises to concentrate his mind on a thing which he really wants. It is the things you do not really care about which require effort to fix your attention upon them.

And unless you really want to get rich, so that the desire is strong enough to hold your thoughts directed to the purpose [determination] as the magnetic pole holds the needle of the compass, it will hardly be worthwhile for you to try to carry out the instructions given in this book. The methods set forth here are for people whose desire for riches is strong enough to overcome mental laziness and the love of ease, and make them work.

The more clear and definite you make your picture then, and the more you dwell upon it, bringing out all its delightful details, the stronger your desire will be. And the stronger your desire, the easier it will be to hold your mind fixed upon the picture of what you want.

Something more is necessary, however, than merely to see the picture clearly. If that is all you do, you are only a dreamer, and will have little or no power for accomplishment.

Behind your clear vision must be the purpose [determination] to realize it, to bring it out in tangible expression. And behind this purpose [determination] must be an invincible and unwavering FAITH that the thing is already yours, that it is “at hand” and you have only to take possession of it.

Live in the new house, mentally, until it takes form around you physically. In the mental realm, enter at once into full enjoyment of the things you want.

“Whatsoever things ye ask for when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them,” said Jesus.

See the things you want as if they were actually around you all the time. See yourself as owning and using them.

Make use of them in imagination just as you will use them when they are your tangible possessions. Dwell upon your mental picture until it is clear and distinct, and then take the mental attitude of ownership toward everything in that picture. Take possession of it in mind, in the full faith that it is actually yours. Hold to this mental ownership. Do not waiver for an instant in the faith that it is real.

And remember what was said in a proceeding chapter about gratitude. Be as thankful for it all the time as you expect to be when it has taken form. The person who can sincerely thank God for the things which as yet he owns only in imagination, has real faith. He will get rich. He will cause the creation of whatsoever he wants.

You do not need to pray repeatedly for things you want. It is not necessary to tell God about it every day.

“Use not vain repetitions as the heathen do,” said Jesus said to his pupils, “for your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things before ye ask Him.”

Your part is to intelligently formulate your desire for the things which make for a larger life, and to get these desires arranged into a coherent whole, and then to impress this whole desire upon the Formless Substance, which has the power and the will to bring you what you want.

You do not make this impression by repeating strings of words. You make it by holding the vision with unshakable PURPOSE [determination] to attain it, and with steadfast FAITH that you do attain it.

The answer to prayer is not according to your faith while you are talking, but according to your faith while you are working.

You cannot impress the mind of God by having a special Sabbath day set apart to tell him what you want, and then forgetting him during the rest of the week. You cannot impress him by having special hours to go into your closet and pray, if you then dismiss the matter from your mind until the hour of prayer comes again.

Oral prayer is well enough, and has its effect, especially upon yourself, in clarifying your vision and strengthening your faith, but it is not your oral petitions which get you what you want. In order to get rich you do not need a “sweet hour of prayer.” You need to “pray without ceasing.” And by prayer I mean holding steadily to your vision, with the purpose [determination] to cause its creation into solid form, and the faith that you are doing so. “Believe that ye receive them.”

The whole matter turns on receiving, once you have clearly formed your vision. When you have formed it, it is well to make an oral statement, addressing the Supreme in reverent prayer. And from that moment you must, in mind, receive what you ask for. Live in the new house, wear the fine clothes, ride in the automobile, go on the journey, and confidently plan for greater journeys. Think and speak of all the things you have asked for in terms of actual present ownership. Imagine an environment and a financial condition exactly as you want them, and live all the time in that imaginary environment and financial condition.

Mind, however, that you do not do this as a mere dreamer and castle builder. Hold to the FAITH that the imaginary is being realized, and to the PURPOSE [determination] to realize it. Remember that it is faith and purpose [determination] in the use of the imagination which make the difference between the scientist and the dreamer.

And having learned this fact, it is here that you must learn the proper use of the will.

Chapter 9

How To Use The Will

To set about getting rich in a scientific way, you do not try to apply your will power to anything outside of yourself. You have no right to do so, anyway. It is wrong to apply your will to other men and women in order to get them to do what you wish done.

It is as flagrantly wrong to coerce people by mental power as it is to coerce them by physical power. If compelling people by physical force to do things for you reduces them to slavery, compelling them by mental means accomplishes exactly the same thing. The only difference is in methods. If taking things from people by physical force is robbery, then taking things by mental force is robbery also. There is no difference in principle.

You have no right to use your will power upon another person, even “for his own good,” for you do not know what is for his good. The science of getting rich does not require you to apply power or force to any other person, in any way whatsoever. There is not the slightest necessity for doing so. Indeed, any attempt to use your will upon others will only tend to defeat your purpose.

You do not need to apply your will to things, in order to compel them to come to you. That would simply be trying to coerce God, and would be foolish and useless, as well as irreverent.

You do not have to compel God to give you good things, any more than you have to use your will power to make the sun rise. You do not have to use your will power to conquer an unfriendly deity, or to make stubborn and rebellious forces do your bidding. Substance is friendly to you, and is more anxious to give you what you want than you are to get it.

To get rich, you need only to use your will power upon yourself.

When you know what to think and do, then you must use your will to compel yourself to think and do the right things. That is the legitimate use of the will in getting what you want – to use it in holding yourself to the right course. Use your will to keep yourself thinking and acting in the certain [sure] way.

Do not try to project your will, your thoughts, or your mind out into space, to “act” on things or people. Keep your mind at home. It can accomplish more there than elsewhere.

Use your mind to form a mental image of what you want, and to hold that vision with faith and purpose [determination]. And use your will to keep your mind working in the right way.

The more steady and continuous your faith and purpose [determination], the more rapidly you will get rich, because you will make only POSITIVE impressions upon Substance and you will not neutralize or offset them by negative impressions.

The picture of your desires, held with faith and purpose [determination], is taken up by the Formless, and permeates it to great distances – throughout the universe, for all I know.

As this impression spreads, all things are set moving toward its realization. Every living thing, every inanimate thing, and the things yet uncreated are stirred toward bringing into being that which you want. All force begins to be exerted in that direction. All things begin to move toward you. The minds of people everywhere are influenced toward doing the things necessary to the fulfilling of your desires and they work for you, unconsciously.

But you can check all this by starting a negative impression in the Formless Substance. Doubt or unbelief is as certain to start a movement away from you as faith and purpose [determination] are to start one toward you. It is by not understanding this that most people who try to make use of “mental science” in getting rich make their failure. Every hour and moment you spend in giving heed to doubts and fears, every hour you spend in worry, every hour in which your soul is possessed by unbelief, sets a current away from you in the whole domain of Intelligent Substance. All the promises are unto them that believe, and unto them only. Notice how insistent Jesus was upon this point of belief.

Since belief is all important, it behooves you to guard your thoughts. As your beliefs will be shaped to a very great extent by the things you observe and think about, it is important that you should command your attention.

And here the will comes into use, for it is by your will that you determine upon what things your attention shall be fixed.

If you want to become rich, you must not make a study of poverty.

Things are not brought into being by thinking about their opposites. Health is never to be attained by studying disease and thinking about disease. Righteousness is not to be promoted by studying sin and thinking about sin. And no one ever got rich by studying poverty and thinking about poverty.

Medicine as a science of disease has increased disease; religion as a science of sin has promoted sin; and economics as a study of poverty will fill the world with wretchedness and want.

Do not talk about poverty. Do not investigate it, or concern yourself with it. Never mind what its causes are, you have nothing to do with them. What concerns you is the cure.

Do not spend your time in charitable work, or charity movements. All charity only tends to perpetuate the wretchedness it aims to eradicate.

I do not say that you should be hard-hearted or unkind, and refuse to hear the cry of need, but you must not try to eradicate poverty in any of the conventional ways. Put poverty behind you, and put all that pertains to it behind you, and “make good.”

Get rich. That is the best way you can help the poor.

And you cannot hold the mental image which is to make you rich if you fill your mind with pictures of poverty. Do not read books or papers which give circumstantial accounts of the wretchedness of the tenement dwellers, of the horrors of child labor, and so on. Do not read anything which fills your mind with gloomy images of want and suffering.

You cannot help the poor in the least by knowing about these things, and the widespread knowledge of them does not tend at all to do away with poverty.

What tends to do away with poverty is not the getting of pictures of poverty into your mind, but getting pictures of wealth into the minds of the poor.

You are not deserting the poor in their misery when you refuse to allow your mind to be filled with pictures of that misery. Poverty can be done away with, not by increasing the number of well-to-do people who think about poverty, but by increasing the number of poor people who purpose [determine] with faith to get rich.

The poor do not need charity; they need inspiration. Charity only sends them a loaf of bread to keep them alive in their wretchedness, or gives them an entertainment to make them forget for an hour or two, but inspiration will cause them to rise out of their misery. If you want to help the poor, demonstrate to them that they can become rich. Prove it by getting rich yourself.

The only way in which poverty will ever be banished from this world is by getting a large and constantly increasing number of people to practice the teachings of this book.

People must be taught to become rich by creation, not by competition. Everyone who becomes rich by competition throws down behind him the ladder by which he rises, and keeps others down, but every person who gets rich by creation opens a way for thousands to follow him, and inspires them to do so.

You are not showing hardness of heart or an unfeeling disposition when you refuse to pity poverty, see poverty, read about poverty, or think or talk about it, or to listen to those who do talk about it. Use your will power to keep your mind OFF the subject of poverty, and to keep it fixed with faith and purpose [determination] ON the vision of what you want.

Chapter 10

Further Use Of The Will

You cannot retain a true and clear vision of wealth if you are constantly turning your attention to opposing pictures, whether they be external or imaginary. Do not tell of your past troubles of a financial nature, if you have had them. Do not think of them at all. Do not tell of the poverty of your parents, or the hardships of your early life. To do any of these things is to mentally class yourself with the poor for the time being, and it will certainly check the movement of things in your direction.

“Let the dead bury their dead,” as Jesus said. Put poverty and all things that pertain to poverty completely behind you.

You have accepted a certain theory of the universe as being correct, and are resting all your hopes of happiness on its being correct. What can you gain by giving heed to conflicting theories?

Do not read religious books which tell you that the world is soon coming to an end, and do not read the writing of muckrakers and pessimistic philosophers who tell you that it is going to the devil. The world is not going to the devil; it is going to God. It is a wonderful Becoming.

True, there may be a good many things in existing conditions which are disagreeable, but what is the use of studying them when they are certainly passing away, and when the study of them only tends to check their passing and keep them with us? Why give time and attention to things which are being removed by evolutionary growth, when you can hasten their removal only by promoting the evolutionary growth as far as your part of it goes?

No matter how horrible may seem to be the conditions in certain countries, sections, or places, you waste your time and destroy your own chances by considering them.

You should interest yourself in the world’s becoming rich.

Think of the riches the world is coming into, instead of the poverty it is growing out of. Bear in mind that the only way in which you can assist the world in growing rich is by growing rich yourself through the creative method, not the competitive one.

Give your attention wholly to riches and remove it from poverty.

Whenever you think or speak of those who are poor, think and speak of them as those who are becoming rich, as those who are to be congratulated rather than pitied. Then they and others will catch the inspiration, and begin to search for the way out.

Because I say that you are to give your whole time and mind and thought to riches, it does not follow that you are to be sordid or mean.

To become really rich is the noblest aim you can have in life, for it includes everything else.

On the competitive plane, the struggle to get rich is a Godless scramble for power over others, but when we come into the creative mind, all this is changed. All that is possible in the way of greatness and soul unfoldment, of service and lofty endeavor, comes by way of getting rich. All is made possible by the use of things.

You can aim at nothing so great or noble, I repeat, as to become rich, and you must fix your attention upon your mental picture of riches, to the exclusion of all that may tend to dim or obscure the vision.

You must learn to see the underlying TRUTH in all things. You must see beneath all seemingly wrong conditions the Great One Life ever moving forward toward fuller expression and more complete happiness. It is the truth that there is no such thing as poverty, that there is only wealth.

Some people remain in poverty because they are ignorant of the fact that there is wealth for them. These can best be taught by showing them the way to affluence in your own person and practice.

Others are poor because, while they feel that there is a way out, they are too intellectually indolent to put forth the mental effort necessary to find that way and by travel it. For these the very best thing you can do is to arouse their desire by showing them the happiness that comes from being rightly rich.

Others still are poor because, while they have some notion of science, they have become so swamped and lost in the maze of metaphysical and occult theories that they do not know which road to take. They try a mixture of many systems and fail in all. For these, again, the very best thing to do is to show the right way in your own person and practice. An ounce of doing things is worth a pound of theorizing.

The very best thing you can do for the whole world is to make the most of yourself.

You can serve God and humankind in no more effective way than by getting rich; that is, if you get rich by the creative method and not by the competitive one.

Another thing. We assert that this book gives in detail the principles of the science of getting rich, and if that is true, you do not need to read any other book upon the subject.

This may sound narrow and egotistical, but consider: There is no more scientific method of computation in mathematics than by addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. No other method is possible.

There can be but one shortest distance between two points. There is only one way to think scientifically, and that is to think in the way that leads by the most direct and simple route to the goal.

No one has yet formulated a briefer or less complex “system” than the one set forth herein. It has been stripped of all non-essentials. When you commence on this, lay all others aside. Put them out of your mind altogether.

Read this book every day. Keep it with you. Commit it to memory, and do not think about other “systems” and theories. If you do, you will begin to have doubts, and to be uncertain and wavering in your thought, and then you will begin to make failures. After you have made good and become rich, you may study other systems as much as you please.

And read only the most optimistic comments on the world’s news – those in harmony with your picture.

Also, postpone your investigations into the occult. Do not dabble in theosophy, spiritualism, or kindred studies. It is very likely that the dead still live and are near, but if they are, let them alone. Mind your own business.

Wherever the spirits of the dead may be, they have their own work to do, and their own problems to solve and we have no right to interfere with them. We cannot help them, and it is very doubtful whether they can help us, or whether we have any right to trespass upon their time if they can. Let the dead and the hereafter alone, and solve your own problem: Get rich. If you begin to mix with the occult, you will start mental cross-currents which will surely bring your hopes to shipwreck.

Now, this and the preceding chapters have brought us to the following statement of basic facts:

There is a Thinking Stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe.

A thought in this Substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought.

A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon Formless Substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

In order to do this, a person must pass from the competitive to the creative mind. He must form a clear mental picture of the things he wants and hold this picture in his thoughts with the fixed PURPOSE [determination] to get what he wants, and the unwavering FAITH that he does get what he wants, closing his mind against all that may tend to shake his purpose [determination], dim his vision, or quench his faith.

And in addition to all this, we shall now see that he must live and act in a certain [sure] way.

Chapter 11

Acting In The Certain Way

Thought is the creative power or the impelling force which causes the creative power to act. Thinking in a certain [sure] way will bring riches to you, but you must not rely upon thought alone, paying no attention to personal action. That is the rock upon which many otherwise scientific metaphysical thinkers meet shipwreck – the failure to connect thought with personal action.

We have not yet reached the stage of development, even supposing such a stage to be possible, in which a person can create directly from Formless Substance without nature's processes or the work of human hands.

A person must not only think, but his personal action must supplement his thought.

By thought you can cause the gold in the hearts of the mountains to be impelled toward you, but it will not mine itself, refine itself, coin itself into double eagles, and come rolling along the roads seeking its way into your pocket.

Under the impelling power of the Supreme Spirit, people's affairs will be so ordered that someone will be led to mine the gold for you. Other people's business transactions will be so directed that the gold will be brought toward you, and you must so arrange your own business affairs that you may be able to receive it when it comes to you. Your thought makes all things, animate and inanimate, work to bring you what you want, but your personal activity must be such that you can rightly receive what you want when it reaches you. You are not to take it as charity, nor to steal it. You must give every person more in use value than he gives you in cash value.

The scientific use of thought consists in forming a clear and distinct mental image of what you want, in holding fast to the purpose [determination] to get what you want, and in realizing with grateful faith that you do get what you want.

Do not try to "project" your thought in any mysterious or occult way, with the idea of having it go out and do things for you. That is wasted effort, and will weaken your power to think with sanity.

The action of thought in getting rich is fully explained in the preceding chapters. Your faith and purpose [determination] positively impress your vision upon Formless Substance, which has the same desire for more life that you have, and this vision, received from you, sets all the creative forces at work in and through their regular channels of action, but directed toward you.

It is not your part to guide or supervise the creative process. All you have to do with that is to retain your vision, stick to your purpose [determination], and maintain your faith and gratitude.

But you must act in a certain [sure] way, so that you can appropriate what is yours when it comes to you, meet the things you have in your picture, and put them in their proper places as they arrive.

You can really see the truth of this. When things reach you, they will be in the hands of others, who will ask an equivalent for them. And you can only get what is yours by giving the other person what is his.

Your pocketbook is not going to be transformed into a Fortunatus's purse, which shall be always full of money without effort on your part.

This is the crucial point in the science of getting rich – right here, where thought and personal action must be combined. There are very many people who, consciously or unconsciously, set the creative forces in action by the strength and persistence of their desires, but who remain poor because they do not provide for the reception of the thing they want when it comes.

*By thought, the thing you want is brought to you;
by action you receive it.*

Whatever your action is to be, it is evident that you must act NOW. You cannot act in the past, and it is essential to the clearness of your mental vision that you dismiss the past from your mind. You cannot act in the future, for the future is not here yet. And you cannot tell how you will want to act in any future contingency until that contingency has arrived.

Because you are not in the right business or the right environment now, do not think that you must postpone action until you get into the right business or environment. And do not spend time in the present taking thought as to the best course in possible future emergencies. Have faith in your ability to meet any emergency when it arrives.

If you act in the present with your mind on the future, your present action will be with a divided mind, and will not be effective. Put your whole mind into present action.

Do not give your creative impulse to Original Substance and then sit down and wait for results. If you do, you will never get them. Act now. There is never any time but now, and there never will be any time but now. If you are ever to begin to make ready for the reception of what you want, you must begin now.

And your action, whatever it is, must most likely be in your present business or employment, and must be upon the persons and things in your present environment.

*You cannot act where you are not.
You cannot act where you have been,
and you cannot act where you are going to be.
You can act only where you are.*

Do not bother as to whether yesterday's work was well done or ill done; do today's work well.

Do not try to do tomorrow's work now. There will be plenty of time to do that when you get to it.

Do not try, by occult or mystical means, to act on people or things that are out of your reach.

Do not wait for a change of environment before you act. Get a change of environment by action.

You can so act upon the environment in which you are now as to cause yourself to be transferred to a better environment.

Hold with faith and purpose [determination] the vision of yourself in the better environment, but act upon your present environment with all your heart, and with all your strength, and with all your mind.

Do not spend any time in day dreaming or castle building. Hold to the one vision of what you want, and act NOW.

Do not cast about seeking some new thing to do, or some strange, unusual, or remarkable action to perform as a first step toward getting rich. It is probable that your actions, at least for some time to come, will be those you have been performing for some time past, but you are to begin now to perform these actions in the certain [sure] way, which will surely make you rich.

If you are engaged in some business, and feel that it is not the right one for you, do not wait until you get into the right business before you begin to act.

Do not feel discouraged, or sit down and lament because you are misplaced. No one is ever so misplaced that he cannot find the right place, and no one ever became so involved in the wrong business that he couldn't get into the right business.

Hold the vision of yourself in the right business, with the purpose [determination] to get into it, and the faith that you will get into it, and are getting into it, but ACT in your present business. Use your present business as the means of getting a better one, and use your present environment as the means of getting into a better one. Your vision of the right business, if held with faith and purpose [determination], will cause the Supreme to move the right business toward you, and your action, if performed in the certain [sure] way, will cause you to move toward the business.

If you are an employee or wage earner, and feel that you must change places in order to get what you want, do not “project” your thought into space and rely upon it to get you another job. It will probably fail to do so.

Hold the vision of yourself in the job you want, while you ACT with faith and purpose [determination] on the job you have, and you will certainly get the job you want.

Your vision and faith will set the creative force in motion to bring it toward you, and your action will cause the forces in your own environment to move you toward the place you want.

In closing this chapter, we will add another statement to our syllabus:

There is a Thinking Stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe.

A thought in this Substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought.

A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon Formless Substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

In order to do this, a person must pass from the competitive to the creative mind. He must form a clear mental picture of the things he wants and hold this picture in his thoughts with the fixed PURPOSE [determination] to get what he wants, and the unwavering FAITH that he does get what he wants, closing his mind against all that may tend to shake his purpose [determination], dim his vision, or quench his faith.

So that he may receive what he wants when it comes, a person must act NOW upon the people and things in his present environment.

Chapter 12

Efficient Action

You must use your thought as directed in previous chapters, and begin to do what you can do where you are, and you must do ALL that you can do where you are. You can advance only by being larger than your present place, and no one is larger than his present place who leaves undone any of the work pertaining to that place.

The world is advanced only by those who more than fill their present places.

If no one quite filled his present place, you can see that there must be a going backward in everything. Those who do not quite fill their present places are dead weight upon society, government, commerce, and industry. They must be carried along by others at a great expense. The progress of the world is retarded only by those who do not fill the places they are holding. They belong to a former age and a lower stage or plane of life, and their tendency is toward degeneration. No society could advance if everyone was smaller than his place. Social evolution is guided by the Law of Physical and Mental Evolution.

In the animal world, evolution is caused by excess of life. When an organism has more life than can be expressed in the functions of its own plane, it develops the organs of a higher plane, and a new species is originated.

There never would have been new species had there not been organisms which more than filled their places. The law is exactly the same for you. Your getting rich depends upon your applying this principle to your own affairs.

Every day is either a successful day or a day of failure, and it is the successful days which get you what you want. If every day is a failure, you can never get rich, while if every day is a success, you cannot fail to get rich.

If there is something that may be done today, and you do not do it, you have failed insofar as that thing is concerned, and the consequences may be more disastrous than you imagine.

You cannot foresee the results of even the most trivial act. You do not know the workings of all the forces that have been set moving in your behalf. Much may be depending on your doing some simple act. It may be the very thing which is to open the door of opportunity to very great possibilities. You can never know all the combinations which Supreme Intelligence is making for you in the world of things and of human affairs. Your neglect or failure to do some small thing may cause a long delay in getting what you want.

Do, every day, ALL that can be done that day.

There is, however, a limitation or qualification of the above that you must take into account. You are not to overwork, nor to rush blindly into your business in the effort to do the greatest possible number of things in the shortest possible time. You are not to try to do tomorrow's work today, nor to do a week's work in a day.

It is really not the number of things you do, but the efficiency of each separate action that counts. Every act is, in itself, either a success or a failure. Every act is, in itself, either efficient or inefficient. Every inefficient act is a failure, and if you spend your life in doing inefficient acts, your whole life will be a failure. The more things you do, the worse for you, if all your acts are inefficient ones.

On the other hand, every efficient act is a success in itself, and if every act of your life is an efficient one, your whole life MUST be a success.

The cause of failure is doing too many things in an inefficient manner, and not doing enough things in an efficient manner.

You will see that it is a self-evident proposition that if you do not do any inefficient acts, and if you do a sufficient number of efficient acts, you will become rich. If, now, it is possible for you to make each act an efficient one, you see again that the getting of riches is reduced to an exact science, like mathematics.

The matter turns, then, on the question of whether you can make each separate act a success in itself. And this you can certainly do. You can make each act a success, because ALL power is working with you and ALL power cannot fail. Power is at your service and to make each act efficient you have only to put power into it.

Every action is either strong or weak, and when every one is strong, you are acting in the certain [sure] way which will make you rich.

Every act can be made strong and efficient by holding your vision while you are doing it, and putting the whole power of your FAITH and PURPOSE [determination] into it.

It is at this point that the people fail who separate mental power from personal action. They use the power of mind in one place and at one time, and they act in another way in another place and at another time. So their acts are not successful in themselves – too many of them are inefficient. But if ALL power goes into every act, no matter how commonplace, every act will be a success in itself. And as the nature of things is that every success opens the way to other successes, your progress toward what you want, and the progress of what you want toward you, will become increasingly rapid.

Remember that successful action is cumulative in its results. Since the desire for more life is inherent in all things, when a person begins to move toward larger life, more things attach themselves to him, and the influence of his desire is multiplied.

Do, every day, all that you can do that day, and do each act in an efficient manner.

In saying that you must hold your vision while you are doing each act, however trivial or commonplace, I do not mean to say that it is necessary at all times to see the vision distinctly in its smallest details. It should be the work of your leisure hours to use your imagination on the details of your vision, and to contemplate them until they are firmly fixed upon memory. If you wish speedy results, spend practically all your spare time in this practice.

By continuous contemplation you will get the picture of what you want, even to the smallest details, so firmly fixed upon your mind, and so completely transferred to the mind of Formless Substance, that in your working hours you need only to mentally refer to the picture to stimulate your faith and purpose [determination], and cause your best effort to be put forth. Contemplate your picture in your leisure hours until your consciousness is so full of it that you can grasp it instantly. You will become so enthused with its bright promises that the mere thought of it will call forth the strongest energies of your whole being.

Let us again repeat our syllabus, and by slightly changing the closing statements bring it to the point we have now reached.

There is a Thinking Stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe.

A thought in this Substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought.

A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon Formless Substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

In order to do this, a person must pass from the competitive to the creative mind. He must form a clear mental picture of the things he wants, and do – with faith and purpose [determination] – all that can be done each day, doing each separate thing in an efficient manner.

Chapter 13

Getting Into The Right Business

Success, in any particular business, depends for one thing upon your possessing in a well-developed state the faculties required in that business. Without good musical faculty no one can succeed as a teacher of music. Without well-developed mechanical faculties no one can achieve great success in any of the mechanical trades. Without tact and the commercial faculties no one can succeed in mercantile pursuits.

But to possess in a well-developed state the faculties required in your particular vocation does not insure getting rich. There are musicians who have remarkable talent and who yet remain poor. There are blacksmiths, carpenters, and so on who have excellent mechanical ability, but who do not get rich. And there are merchants with good faculties for dealing with people who nevertheless fail.

The different faculties are tools. It is essential to have good tools, but it is also essential that the tools should be used in the right way. One person can take a sharp saw, a square, a good plane, and so on, and build a handsome article of furniture. Another can take the same tools and set to work to duplicate the article, but his production will be a botch if he does not know how to use good tools in a successful way.

The various faculties of your mind are the tools with which you must do the work which is to make you rich. It will be easier for you to succeed if you get into a business for which you are well equipped with mental tools.

Generally speaking, you will do best in that business which will use your strongest faculties – the one for which you are naturally “best fitted.” But there are limitations to this statement also. No one should regard his vocation as being irrevocably fixed by the tendencies with which he was born.

*You can get rich in ANY business, for if you have not the right talent, you can develop that talent.
It merely means that you will have to make your tools as you go along, instead of confining yourself to the use of those with which you were born.*

It will be EASIER for you to succeed in a vocation for which you already have the talents in a well-developed state, but you CAN succeed in any vocation, for you can develop any rudimentary talent, and there is no talent of which you have not at least the rudiment.

You will get rich most easily in terms of effort, if you do that for which you are best fitted, but you will get rich most satisfactorily if you do that which you WANT to do.

Doing what you want to do is life, and there is no real satisfaction in living if we are compelled to be forever doing something which we do not like to do, and can never do what we want to do.

*And it is certain that you can do what you want to do.
The desire to do it is proof that you have within you the power which can do it.
Desire is a manifestation of power.*

The desire to play music is the power which can play music seeking expression and development. The desire to invent mechanical devices is the mechanical talent seeking expression and development.

Where there is no power – either developed or undeveloped – to do a thing, there is never any desire to do that thing. And where there is strong desire to do a thing, it is certain proof that the power to do it is strong and only requires to be developed and applied in the right way.

All other things being equal, it is best to select the business for which you have the best developed talent, but if you have a strong desire to engage in any particular line of work, you should select that work as the ultimate end at which to aim.

You can do what you want to do, and it is your right and privilege to follow the business or avocation which will be most congenial and pleasant. You are not obliged to do what you do not like to do, and should not do it except as a means to bring you to the doing of the thing you want to do.

If there are past mistakes whose consequences have placed you in an undesirable business or environment, you may be obliged for some time to do what you do not like to do, but you can make the doing of it pleasant by knowing that it is making it possible for you to come to the doing of what you want to do.

If you feel that you are not in the right vocation, do not act too hastily in trying to get into another one. The best way, generally, to change business or environment is by growth.

Do not be afraid to make a sudden and radical change if the opportunity is present, and you feel after careful consideration that it is the right opportunity, but never take sudden or radical action when you are in doubt as to the wisdom of doing so.

There is never any hurry on the creative plane, and there is no lack of opportunity.

When you get out of the competitive mind you will understand that you never need to act hastily. No one else is going to beat you to the thing you want to do. There is enough for all. If one space is taken, another and a better one will be opened for you a little farther on. There is plenty of time. When you are in doubt, wait. Fall back on the contemplation of your vision, and increase your faith and purpose [determination], and by all means, in times of doubt and indecision, cultivate gratitude.

A day or two spent in contemplating the vision of what you want, and in earnest thanksgiving that you are getting it, will bring your mind into such close relationship with the Supreme that you will make no mistake when you do act.

There is a Mind which knows all there is to know, and you can come into close unity with this Mind by faith and the purpose [determination] to advance in life, if you have deep gratitude.

Mistakes come from acting hastily, or from acting in fear or doubt, or in forgetfulness of the right motive, which is more life to all, and less to none.

As you go on in the certain [sure] way, opportunities will come to you in increasing number, and you will need to be very steady in your faith and purpose [determination], and to keep in close touch with the All Mind by reverent gratitude.

Do all that you can do in a perfect manner every day, but do it without haste, worry, or fear. Go as fast as you can, but never hurry. Remember that in the moment you begin to hurry you cease to be a creator and become a competitor, you drop back upon the old plane again.

Whenever you find yourself hurrying, call a halt. fix your attention on the mental image of the thing you want, and begin to give thanks that you are getting it. The exercise of GRATITUDE will never fail to strengthen your faith and renew your purpose [determination].

Chapter 14

The Impression Of Increase

Whether you change your vocation or not, your actions for the present must be those pertaining to the business in which you are now engaged. You can get into the business you want by making constructive use of the business you are already established in, by doing your daily work in a certain [sure] way.

And insofar as your business consists in dealing with other people, whether personally or by letter, the key thought of all your efforts must be to convey to their minds the impression of increase.

*Increase is what all men and all women are seeking.
It is the urge of the Formless Intelligence within them, seeking fuller expression.*

The desire for increase is inherent in all nature. It is the fundamental impulse of the universe. All human activities are based on the desire for increase. People are seeking more food, more clothes, better shelter, more luxury, more beauty, more knowledge, more pleasure – increase in something, more life.

Every living thing is under this necessity for continuous advancement. Where increase of life ceases, dissolution and death set in at once.

Everyone instinctively knows this, and hence he is forever seeking more. This Law of Perpetual Increase is set forth by Jesus in the parable of the talents: only those who gain more retain any; from him who hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

The normal desire for increased wealth is not an evil or a reprehensible thing, it is simply the desire for more abundant life. It is aspiration.

And because it is the deepest instinct of their natures, all men and women are attracted to him who can give them more of the means of life.

In following the certain [sure] way as described in the foregoing pages, you are getting continuous increase for yourself, and you are giving it to all with whom you deal. You are a creative center, from which increase is given off to all.

Be sure of this, and convey assurance of the fact to every man, woman, and child with whom you come in contact. No matter how small the transaction, even if it be only the selling of a stick of candy to a little child, put into it the thought of increase, and make sure that the customer is impressed with the thought.

Convey the impression of advancement with everything you do, so that all people shall receive the impression that you are an advancing person, and that you advance all who deal with you. Even to the people whom you meet in a social way, without any thought of business, and to whom you do not try to sell anything, give the thought of increase.

You can convey this impression by holding the unshakable faith that you, yourself, are in the way of increase, and by letting this faith inspire, fill, and permeate every action.

Do everything that you do in the firm conviction that you are an advancing personality, and that you are giving advancement to everybody. Feel that you are getting rich, and that in so doing you are making others rich, and conferring benefits on all.

Do not boast or brag of your success, or talk about it unnecessarily. True faith is never boastful. Wherever you find a boastful person, you find one who is secretly doubtful and afraid. Simply feel the faith, and let it work out in every transaction. Let every act and tone and look express the quiet assurance that you are getting rich – that you are already rich. Words will not be necessary to communicate this feeling to others. They will feel the sense of increase when in your presence, and will be attracted to you again.

You must so impress others that they will feel that in associating with you they will get increase for themselves. See that you give them a use value greater than the cash value you are taking from them.

Take an honest pride in doing this, and let everybody know it and you will have no lack of customers. People will go where they are given increase, and the Supreme, which desires increase in all, and which knows all, will move toward you men and women who have never heard of you. Your business will increase rapidly, and you will be surprised at the unexpected benefits which will come to you. You will be able from day to day to make larger combinations, secure greater advantages, and to go on into a more congenial vocation if you desire to do so.

But doing all this, you must never lose sight of your vision of what you want, or your faith and purpose [determination] to get what you want.

Let me here give you another word of caution in regard to motives: Beware of the insidious temptation to seek for power over other people.

Nothing is so pleasant to the unformed or partially developed mind as the exercise of power or dominion over others. The desire to rule for selfish gratification has been the curse of the world. For countless ages kings and lords have drenched the earth with blood in their battles to extend their dominions – not to seek more life for all, but to get more power for themselves.

Today, the main motive in the business and industrial world is the same: people marshal their armies of dollars, and lay waste the lives and hearts of millions in the same mad scramble for power over others. Commercial kings, like political kings, are inspired by the lust for power.

Look out for the temptation to seek for authority, to become a “master,” to be considered as one who is above the common herd, to impress others by lavish display, and so on.

The mind that seeks for mastery over others is the competitive mind, and the competitive mind is not the creative one. In order to master your environment and your destiny, it is not at all necessary that you should rule over others and indeed, when you fall into the world’s struggle for the high places, you begin to be conquered by fate and environment, and your getting rich becomes a matter of chance and speculation.

Beware of the competitive mind! No better statement of the principle of creative action can be formulated than the favorite declaration of the late “Golden Rule” Jones of Toledo:

“What I want for myself, I want for everybody.”

Chapter 15

The Advancing Person

What I have said in the last chapter applies as well to the professional person and the wage-earner as to the person who is engaged in mercantile business. No matter whether you are a physician, teacher, or clergyman, if you can give increase of life to others and make them sensible of the fact, they will be attracted to you, and you will get rich.

The physician who holds the vision of himself as a great and successful healer, and who works toward the complete realization of that vision with faith and purpose [determination], as described in former chapters, will come into such close touch with the Source of Life that he will be phenomenally successful. Patients will come to him in throngs.

No one has a greater opportunity to carry into effect the teaching of this book than the practitioner of medicine. It does not matter to which of the various schools he may belong, for the principle of healing is common to all of them, and may be reached by all alike. The advancing person in medicine, who holds to a clear mental image of himself as successful, and who obeys the laws of faith, purpose [determination], and gratitude, will cure every curable case he undertakes, no matter what remedies he may use.

In the field of religion, the world cries out for the clergyman who can teach his hearers the true science of abundant life. He who masters the details of the science of getting rich, together with the allied sciences of being well, of being great, and of winning love, and who teaches these details from the pulpit, will never lack for a congregation. This is the gospel that the world needs. It will give increase of life, and people will hear it gladly, and will give liberal support to the person who brings it to them.

What is now needed is a demonstration of the science of life from the pulpit. We want preachers who can not only tell us how, but who in their own persons will show us how. We need the preacher who will himself be rich, healthy, great, and beloved, to teach us how to attain to these things. And when he comes he will find a numerous and loyal following.

The same is true of the teacher who can inspire children with the faith and purpose [determination] of the advancing life. He will never be “out of a job.” Any teacher who has this faith and purpose [determination] can give it to his pupils. He cannot help giving it to them if it is part of his own life and practice.

What is true of the teacher, preacher, and physician is true of the lawyer, dentist, real estate agent, insurance agent – of everybody.

The combined mental and personal action I have described is infallible; it cannot fail. Every man and woman who follows these instructions steadily, perseveringly, and to the letter, will get rich. The Law of the Increase of Life is as mathematically certain in its operation as the Law of Gravitation. Getting rich is an exact science.

The wage-earner will find this as true of his case as of any of the others mentioned. Do not feel that you have no chance to get rich because you are working where there is no visible opportunity for advancement, where wages are small and the cost of living high. Form your clear mental vision of what you want, and begin to act with faith and purpose [determination].

Do all the work you can do, every day, and do each piece of work in a perfectly successful manner. Put the power of success, and the purpose [determination] to get rich into everything that you do.

But do not do this merely with the idea of currying favor with your employer, in the hope that he, or those above you, will see your good work and advance you. It is not likely that they will do so.

The person who is merely a “good” worker, filling his place to the very best of his ability, and satisfied with that, is valuable to his employer and it is not to the employer’s interest to promote him. He is worth more where he is.

To secure advancement, something more is necessary than to be too large for your place.

The person who is certain to advance is the one who is too big for his place, and who has a clear concept of what he wants to be, who knows that he can become what he wants to be and who is determined to BE what he wants to be.

Do not try to more than fill your present place with a view to pleasing your employer; do it with the idea of advancing yourself. Hold the faith and purpose [determination] of increase during work hours, after work hours, and before work hours. Hold it in such a way that every person who comes in contact with you, whether foreman, fellow workman, or social acquaintance, will feel the power of purpose [determination] radiating from you, so that everyone will get the sense of advancement and increase from you. People will be attracted to you, and if there is no possibility for advancement in your present job, you will very soon see an opportunity to take another job.

There is a Power which never fails to present opportunity to the advancing person who is moving in obedience to law.

God cannot help helping you, if you act in a certain [sure] way. He must do so in order to help himself.

There is nothing in your circumstances or in the industrial situation that can keep you down. If you cannot get rich working for the steel trust, you can get rich on a ten-acre farm, and if you begin to move in the certain [sure] way, you will certainly escape from the “clutches” of the steel trust and get on to the farm or wherever else you wish to be.

If a few thousands of its employees would enter upon the certain [sure] way, the steel trust would soon be in a bad plight. It would have to give its workers more opportunity or go out of business. Nobody has to work for a trust. The trusts can keep people in so called “hopeless conditions” only so long as there are people who are too ignorant to know of the science of getting rich, or too intellectually slothful to practice it.

Begin this way of thinking and acting, and your faith and purpose [determination] will make you quick to see any opportunity to better your condition.

Such opportunities will speedily come, for the Supreme, working in All, and working for you, will bring them before you.

Do not wait for an opportunity to be all that you want to be. When an opportunity to be more than you are now is presented and you feel impelled toward it, take it. It will be the first step toward a greater opportunity.

There is no such thing possible in this universe as a lack of opportunities for the person who is living the advancing life.

It is inherent in the constitution of the cosmos that all things shall be for him and work together for his good. And he must certainly get rich if he acts and thinks in the certain [sure] way. So let wage-earning men and women study this book with great care, and enter with confidence upon the course of action it prescribes. It will not fail.

Chapter 16

Some Cautions And Concluding Observations

Many people will scoff at the idea that there is an exact science of getting rich. Holding the impression that the supply of wealth is limited, they will insist that social and governmental institutions must be changed before even any considerable number of people can acquire a competence.

But this is not true.

It is true that existing governments keep the masses in poverty, but this is because the masses do not think and act in the certain [sure] way.

If the masses begin to move forward as suggested in this book, neither governments nor industrial systems can check them. All systems must be modified to accommodate the forward movement.

If the people have the advancing mind, have the faith that they can become rich, and move forward with the fixed purpose [determination] to become rich, nothing can possibly keep them in poverty.

Individuals may enter upon the certain [sure] way at any time, and under any government, and make themselves rich, and when any considerable number of individuals do so under any government, they will cause the system to be so modified as to open the way for others.

The more people who get rich on the competitive plane, the worse for others. The more who get rich on the creative plane, the better for others.

The economic salvation of the masses can only be accomplished by getting a large number of people to practice the scientific method set down in this book, and become rich. These will show others the way, and inspire them with a desire for real life, with the faith that it can be attained, and with the purpose [determination] to attain it.

For the present, however, it is enough to know that neither the government under which you live nor the capitalistic or competitive system of industry can keep you from getting rich. When you enter upon the creative plane of thought you will rise above all these things and become a citizen of another kingdom.

But remember that your thought must be held upon the creative plane. You are never for an instant to be betrayed into regarding the supply as limited, or into acting on the moral level of competition.

Whenever you do fall into old ways of thought, correct yourself instantly, for when you are in the competitive mind, you have lost the cooperation of the Mind of the Whole.

Do not spend any time in planning as to how you will meet possible emergencies in the future, except as the necessary policies may affect your actions today. You are concerned with doing today's work in a perfectly successful manner, and not with emergencies which may arise tomorrow. You can attend to them as they come.

Do not concern yourself with questions as to how you shall surmount obstacles which may loom upon your business horizon, unless you can see plainly that your course must be altered today in order to avoid them.

No matter how tremendous an obstruction may appear at a distance, you will find that if you go on in the certain [sure] way it will disappear as you approach it, or that a way over, through, or around it will appear.

No possible combination of circumstances can defeat a man or woman who is proceeding to get rich along strictly scientific lines. No man or woman who obeys the law can fail to get rich, any more than one can multiply two by two and fail to get four.

Give no anxious thought to possible disasters, obstacles, panics, or unfavorable combinations of circumstances. There is time enough to meet such things when they present themselves before you in the immediate present, and you will find that every difficulty carries with it the wherewithal for its overcoming.

Guard your speech. Never speak of yourself, your affairs, or of anything else in a discouraged or discouraging way. Never admit the possibility of failure, or speak in a way that infers failure as a possibility.

*Never speak of the times as being hard, or of business conditions as being doubtful.
Times may be hard and business doubtful for those who are on the competitive plane, but they can never be so for you.
You can create what you want,
and you are above fear.*

When others are having hard times and poor business, you will find your greatest opportunities.

Train yourself to think of and to look upon the world as a something which is Becoming, which is growing, and to regard seeming evil as being only that which is undeveloped. Always speak in terms of advancement. To do otherwise is to deny your faith, and to deny your faith is to lose it.

*Never allow yourself to feel disappointed.
You may expect to have a certain thing at a certain time, and not get it at that time, and this will appear to you like failure. But if you hold to your faith you will find that the failure is only apparent.
Go on in the certain [sure] way, and if you do not receive that thing, you will receive something so much better that you will see that the seeming failure was really a great success.*

A student of this science had set his mind on making a certain business combination which seemed to him at the time to be very desirable, and he worked for some weeks to bring it about. When the crucial time came, the thing failed in a perfectly inexplicable way. It was as if some unseen influence had been working secretly against him. He was not disappointed, On the contrary, he thanked God that his desire had been overruled, and went steadily on with a grateful mind. In a few weeks an opportunity so much better came his way that he would not have made the first deal on any account. He saw that a Mind which knew more than he knew had prevented him from losing the greater good by entangling himself with the lesser.

That is the way every seeming failure will work out for you, if you keep your faith, hold to your purpose [determination], have gratitude, and do, every day, all that can be done that day, doing each separate act in a successful manner.

When you make a failure, it is because you have not asked for enough. Keep on, and a larger thing than you were seeking will certainly come to you. Remember this.

You will not fail because you lack the necessary talent to do what you wish to do. If you go on as I have directed, you will develop all the talent that is necessary to the doing of your work.

It is not within the scope of this book to deal with the science of cultivating talent, but it is as certain and simple as the process of getting rich.

However, do not hesitate or waver for fear that when you come to any certain place you will fail for lack of ability. Keep right on, and when you come to that place, the ability will be furnished to you. The same Source of ability which enabled the untaught Lincoln to do the greatest work in government ever accomplished by a single man is open to you. You may draw upon all the Mind there is for wisdom to use in meeting the responsibilities which are laid upon you. Go on in full faith.

Study this book. Make it your constant companion until you have mastered all the ideas contained in it. While you are getting firmly established in this faith, you will do well to give up most recreations and pleasure and to stay away from places where ideas conflicting with these are advanced in lectures or sermons. Do not read pessimistic or conflicting literature, or get into arguments upon the matter.

Spend most of your leisure time in contemplating your vision, in cultivating gratitude, and in reading this book. It contains all you need to know of the science of getting rich, and you will find all the essentials summed up in the following chapter.

Chapter 17

Summary Of
The Science Of Getting Rich

There is a Thinking Stuff from which all things are made, and which, in its original state, permeates, penetrates, and fills the interspaces of the universe. A thought in this Substance produces the thing that is imaged by the thought.

A person can form things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon Formless Substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

In order to do this, a person must pass from the competitive to the creative mind, otherwise he cannot be in harmony with the Formless Intelligence, which is always creative and never competitive in spirit.

A person may come into full harmony with the Formless Substance by entertaining a lively and sincere gratitude for the blessings it bestows upon him. Gratitude unifies the mind of individuals with the intelligence of Substance, so that a person's thoughts are received by the Formless. A person can remain upon the creative plane only by uniting himself with the Formless Intelligence through a deep and continuous feeling of gratitude.

A person must form a clear and definite mental image of the things he wishes to have, to do, or to become, and he must hold this mental image in his thoughts, while being deeply grateful to the Supreme that all his desires are granted to him. The person who wishes to get rich must spend his leisure hours in contemplating his vision, and in earnest thanksgiving that the reality is being given to him. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of frequent contemplation of the mental image, coupled with unwavering faith and devout gratitude. This is the process by which the impression is given to the Formless, and the creative forces set in motion.

The creative energy works through the established channels of natural growth, and of the industrial and social order. All that is included in his mental image will surely be brought to the person who follows the instructions given above, and whose faith does not waver. What he wants will come to him through the ways of established trade and commerce.

In order to receive his own when it shall come to him, a person must be active, and this activity can only consist in more than filling his present place. He must keep in mind the purpose [determination] to get rich through the realization of his mental image. And he must do, every day, all that can be done that day, taking care to do each act in a successful manner. He must give to every person a use value in excess of the cash value he receives, so that each transaction makes for more life. He must so hold the advancing thought that the impression of increase will be communicated to all with whom he comes in contact.

The men and women who practice the foregoing instructions will certainly get rich, and the riches they receive will be in exact proportion to the definiteness of their vision, the fixity of their purpose [determination], the steadiness of their faith, and the depth of their gratitude.

Appendix A

How To Release Self-Limiting Beliefs

I you are feeling doubts about your ability to create a peaceful, joyful, and fulfilling life, then you most likely have limiting beliefs that are operating below your conscious awareness, as I described in my introduction to this book on page iv. In order to get the most out of Mr. Wattles' powerful approach, your subconscious mind needs to be saying "yes" to it as well as your conscious mind.

There is a way to heal limiting beliefs. In a WellBeing Alignment Session I coach you through a gentle, yet deep and powerful process. Together we call on the Light within and access a place of peace inside, which I like to call the Neutral Observer. This neutral, peaceful viewpoint within you is a higher vibration than limiting beliefs and suffering. By witnessing distressful energies from this higher perspective, old wounds and perspectives gently unwind, layer by layer.

During this process you will have access to your inner child. Together we bring Light and Unconditional Love to this precious one, as well as his / her wounds and resulting beliefs. When the Light and the hurts are brought together, only the Light remains and healing is the result. Your inner child begins to experience the Truth: the limiting things you thought were true about yourself are simply not true!

WellBeing Alignment will help you accept, forgive and love yourself AS YOU ARE. From there you will be able to forgive others and release old, stuck energies that seem to separate you from the peace, abundance and love you want. As you open to the Light of healing on all levels of your Being, you will get the best results from Mr. Wattles' approach.

These sessions gently heal your subconscious mind by bringing it into resonance with the Light of who you truly are. This naturally creates harmony throughout your Mind and Being. Consequently, your life begins to flow in sync with what your Heart truly wants to create and experience!

Appendix B

Testimonials – WellBeing Alignment

“I just have to say thank you so much for the wonderful session this last Saturday! Wow!! I am still processing and learning from it. The work you did with me has helped me tremendously. I feel like I have stepped into a new phase of my life. You told me my ‘inner child’ was excited to share stuff with me and that my root chakra had wisdom I would now tap into. Since that day I have a whole new outlook on life. It feels like I am gaining new knowledge and understanding that I didn't have before. Since ‘meeting’ this little girl inside me, I feel like this is the first time in my life that I have truly begun to forgive and love myself. Thank you for the wonderful work you do!”
~ Cheryl Jindra

“Words cannot adequately describe how profound my two sessions with you have been. Our work together has been transformational beyond my greatest hopes and expectations. I have never worked with a more gifted mentor and healer who had such a deep understanding of who I am, and of the underlying thoughts and limiting beliefs perpetuated by my ego that have served to keep me small. You saw right through my words and mental confusion, cutting straight through my ego’s games, and peering into my soul. By pinpointing very specifically what has been at the heart of my ‘stuckness’ and frustration, you empowered me with full knowledge of these underlying beliefs, and then gave me powerful strategies to ‘catch’ them and to turn them around.

“You were able to show me the many guises of my rather sneaky ego, and to help me to recognize it’s strategies so that I can move out of its trap(s) and back into the fullness of my being. Empowering one's clients to take full responsibility for their thoughts and subsequent creations/manifestations is the mark of a master ‘old soul’ teacher. And, you did so with great clarity, love, grace and compassion – for that too, I am most appreciative.

“Your depth of understanding is unparalleled. I have never felt so deeply UNDERSTOOD by anyone. I know that it is not my purpose (or perhaps even my right) to be understood by others in this lifetime, but rather, it’s my purpose to understand them. Nevertheless, to have a mentor who ‘gets’ me so completely – and sees through my ego games and darkness right through to my light (and loves me anyway) – buoys my spirit and fills me with an indescribable lightness of being. And that is what I carry forward from yesterday’s session. How does one say thanks for such a profound gift of renewal and love!?”

“Thank you for giving me the key to free myself, Kai! You are a treasure. Much love and my deepest appreciation.”

~ Amy Painter

More Client Testimonials here.

Appendix C

Links To Healing

WellBeing Alignment Sessions

All dis-ease and suffering come from the false belief that we are separate from our Creator, from each other, and from love. Wellbeing comes from aligning with the Source of Love inside us. I offer spiritual energy healing and coaching for support in aligning yourself with your own Inner Source of wellbeing.

Energy Healing Therapy – A Do-It-Yourself Guide To Release Negative Energy

A step-by-step, do-it-yourself guide for self energy healing.

Emotional Pain – To Heal It We Need to Acknowledge It

Many of us have emotional pain and suffering in our energy field that lies below our conscious awareness. In order to heal and release it, we first need to acknowledge it.

How To Overcome Fear

One of the biggest questions many of us have is how to overcome fear. During a week of terror I learned what causes fear, what our deepest fear comes from, and how to be free of it.

Personal Accountability – Reclaiming Our Judgments, Projections And Ourselves

Personal accountability for our feelings unlocks the door to self-healing and wellbeing. This practice gives us direct access to our unconscious wounding, allowing it to be healed and released.

Self-Compassion Opens The Door To Self-Healing

Until we learn self-compassion, we stand outside our own love and feel separate from Source. This creates all our dis-ease. Experiencing your own compassion for yourself is an essential bridge to your healing.

How To Love Yourself

Self love is at the core of wellbeing, joy, self-empowerment, and your ability to create and enjoy the kind of life you want.

Self Forgiveness Is Essential For Healing

Without self forgiveness, we cut ourselves off from feeling our connection with Source. Forgiving yourself opens your inner door to love, light, healing, abundance and wellbeing.

How to Forgive Others With Love And Compassion

Learning how to forgive is one of the most important things we can learn. Holding grudges hurts ourselves far more than anything another has appeared to “do” to us. We cannot be at peace until we forgive.

Understanding Emotions – Our Remarkable Guidance System

The key to understanding emotions is to recognize them as an amazing guidance system. When we understand them they are a great ally.

Your Power of Choice – Make Good Use of It!

The first step to happiness is to make deliberate use of our awesome power of choice. When we decide we are going to be happy no matter what, the Universe moves in miraculous ways to get us there.

Vulnerability Is A True Strength

Vulnerability is the doorway to love, and gives us access to true strength. Armor, usually erected at a young age, causes most of our adult suffering. Awareness of it is a big step toward freedom.

Mind Power – How to Break Free of Limiting Beliefs

Mind power is an awesome tool for wellbeing. Use it to break free of limiting beliefs and access your unlimited Source of love, joy, creativity and everything your heart truly desires.

The Superego – Breaking Free Of A False God

Breaking free of the superego is essential for anyone who wants wellbeing. How much of your life force and freedom to move forward is being subconsciously squelched by this false god in your mind?

Your Creative Gifts Are Your Road Map To WellBeing

Your creative gifts are a doorway into wellbeing and the fulfillment of your life path. They will lift you out of negativity and up into joy and the conscious experience of your spiritual essence.

The Root of Happiness Is Inside Us

At the core of who we are is the root of happiness. To find happiness we just need to align with our Self!

Who Is God To YOU? Find Out By Talking To God

Who or What is God to YOU? Intuitively we know there is a Source of our life force and wellbeing. For our healing, we need to begin conscious communication with It.

The Law Of Attraction – How We Create Our Lives

The Law of Attraction is the underlying force that creates the content of our lives. It is the principle by which all things manifest. Learning how to consciously work with it can transform your life!

The Law Of Abundance – Learning To Receive

Are you rich in love, prosperity and joy? Is your life fulfilling? Abundance is already yours by The Law of Abundance. However, your experience of abundance depends on your openness to receive it.

Attitude of Gratitude – Turning Toward WellBeing Naturally

Having an attitude of gratitude is to look for what we are naturally grateful for and turn toward it. This opens the doorway to the Source of wellbeing within us.

Easy Spiritual Meditation For Beginners And Seasoned Meditators

Easy and powerful spiritual meditation methods for beginners and experienced meditators. For aligning with God, bringing peace, healing and forgiveness to ourselves and others.

Chakra Meditation – Clear, Heal, Balance And Enliven Yourself

Regular chakra meditation transforms your life by clearing out and enlivening your vital energy centers. This is a direct way to heal ourselves on all levels of our being.

White Light Healing – Chakra Meditation

Regular white light healing meditation increases the Light quotient of our entire energy field. Use for individual and planetary healing, upliftment and overall wellbeing.

Violet Flame Meditation – Transmute And Uplift Your Energy Field

Use Violet Flame Meditation to access powerful Fifth Dimensional frequencies that dissolve lifetimes of unresolved energies with love / light. A potent tool for both individual and collective healing.

Inspirational Books And Music

Here are inspirational books on spirituality, emotional and psychological healing, physical healing and diet, energy healing, inspiring fiction and music for wellbeing.

Join The WellBeing Stream Ezine Newsletter and Mailing List

Join our ezine newsletter and mailing list for new information and updates.

WellBeing Alignment Blog

The WellBeing Alignment Blog keeps you up-to-date with all additions and changes to the WellBeingAlignment.com website.